The Journalism and Sports Summer Program at Morehouse College exposes rising 10th, 11th and 12th grade male and female high school students to journalism careers through the coverage of sports, news and lifestyles. Taught by award-winning Morehouse faculty with over 30 years of daily journalism experience, students will have a hands-on experience focusing on the fundamentals of journalism.

The Journalism and Sports Summer Program at Morehouse College will give students:

- FUNDAMENTAL JOURNALISM SKILLS such as writing, reporting, editing and multimedia storytelling;
- A critical look at the wide range of issues related to journalism and athletics through classroom instruction and EXPOSURE TO COACHES, ATHLETES, AWARD-WINNING REPORTERS AND AUTHORS;
- EXPOSURE TO JOURNALISTS who will share their knowledge and discuss the challenges they have overcome in the newsroom and press box, or on the playing field;
- An understanding of the IMPACT OF RACE, GENDER AND MEDIA BIAS on the news;
- An opportunity to participate in and report on a Mock Press Conference and cover a Professional Sports Event.
