Greeting Parents & Guardians,

The Morehouse College family is proud to invite you to attend the 25th Annual Parents Weekend, February 9 - 12, 2012. President Franklin’s vision is for each student to evolve into Renaissance Men with a social conscience and a global perspective to uplift and to serve. To achieve this goal, it takes the wisdom and support of all our constituencies. We sincerely appreciate your support of the College and look forward to your presence and feedback on how the College is doing as we continue to forge ahead.

Whether this is your first Parents Weekend or you are returning, you will find interesting educational programs and numerous opportunities to join in celebrating Morehouse College’s 145th Founder’s Day. Of special note, the Morehouse College Parents Council will feature an “Old School Party” at the nearby Loft at Castleberry Hill on Thursday evening. Learn more about this event on the registration page! I encourage you to take advantage of opportunities to view the campus, visit with staff and administrators, and to interact with other parents and supporters of Morehouse College.

This is a very special time for the College. There is enormous energy and excitement at Morehouse. But don’t take my word for it. Come see for yourselves and enjoy an extraordinary weekend of celebration. MCPC DOLLARS AT WORK!

Dear Morehouse College Parents and Supporters:

Ever wonder where your hard earned Parents Council contributions go? Allow me to share a few stories for your information. While we applaud the Office of Financial Aid for their tireless work in seeking out innovative ways to meet the financial needs of students, they cannot do it alone. Thankfully many parents, just like you, have extended a helping hand; giving sacrificially to insure the success of our most underserved young men of Morehouse. Let me assure you that your contributions to the Parents Council “emergency assistance fund” have made a huge difference to many! I know because I am privileged to extend aid to students in crisis on your behalf.

In the fall of 2011, there were many young men who arrived on campus with barely enough money to cover tuition. Numerous individuals came to my office looking for assistance. With MCPC funds on hand, I was able to give twenty (20) book scholarships in the amount of $350 each! In addition there was a young man, raised by his Grandmother, who came to Morehouse on scholarship. He excelled in his classes but, on her fixed income, Grandmother had little money to satisfy the student’s balance from the previous term which prevented him from registering. Through the MCPC “emergency assistance fund”, you provided a stipend to this young man in the amount of $500.

In short, You gave $7,500 in assistance to students all in just the first month of school! This is on TOP of the ongoing support provided for your own sons here at the college. When a young student comes to me with a minor need: a pair of shoes, a suit, help with rent, food, medical concerns etc. it is such a blessing to be able to extend assistance from MCPC. With the untimely death of a parent or grandparent, there have been those who needed “emergency assistance” to get home for the funeral. Times are difficult for us all, I know. Still we are reminded by perhaps our best known graduate, the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., not “to judge success by the index of our salaries or by the size of our automobiles rather, by the quality of our service and relationship to mankind.” Good for you Morehouse Parents! Do remember the “emergency assistance fund,” extended through the Morehouse College Parents Council and the Office of Student Services, as you plan your giving for 2012. Many count on your support!

Blessings and Peace,

Dean Harry Wright, Jr.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO SHARE WITH YOUR SONS

Financial Aid
Now is the time for families to begin planning for financing next year’s tuition. Complete your 2012-13 Financial Aid application at http://www.fafsa.ed.gov as close to the February 15 Morehouse Priority Deadline as possible. Remember, for eligible students, the greatest amount of financial aid is available prior to this deadline.

Click this link to go to the Morehouse College Financial Aid Web Page for additional information.

Scholarships
Scholarship money is out there and in many instances, simply available just for the asking. Students must be DELIBERATE and DELIGENT in seeking scholarship dollars. Too often do we hear that the money is available, but the rumor is African American students just aren’t applying.

Here are a few websites to share with your sons so that they can apply to one or many scholarships. As with all applications, be mindful of personal information and your son should never pay a fee in order to apply for a scholarship.

Parents, if you know of other scholarship opportunities, please share them with MCPC. Good Luck All!
