Administrative Experience

Mississippi Urban Research Center (2004 - 2006)

Managed approximately 22 employees, and an annual budget of approximately 2 million dollars. Research proposal development was another responsibility, and it required the development and submission of research proposals to various Federal, State, and Local funding agencies. At the research interests of MURC are varied, many of these research proposals require the participation of faculty at Jackson State University (JSU). As much of my efforts were allocated to prospecting and cultivating research relationships with JSU faculty across the disciplines. My role as Director also required me to be an advocate and spokesman for MURC/JSU through interacting with community-based groups, legislators and policymakers and informing them about MURC capabilities and research relevant to the concerns of external stakeholders. Finally as editor of the MURC-sponsored journals Urban Researcher and MURC Digest, I was responsible for identifying key research issues relevant to urban political jurisdictions, and disseminating them through the journals.

National Science Foundation (2000 - 2002):

During my tenure at the National Science Foundation as Program Director for Economics, I had significant administrative and developmental responsibilities. The Economics Program at NSF receives about 400 research proposals a year from prospective investigators from all over the United States. I administered the review, funding, and budgeting for grants in the following subdisciplines: Econometrics, Labor, Political Economy, International, and Microeconomics. Each of these subdisciplines had an Advisory Panel, consisting of some of the nation's most prominent economists, of which I presided over as chair. My tasks as Program Director also included exercising budgetary oversight of research funds in the Economics Program, development of scientific initiatives, outreach, and dialogue with the academic and scientific community, domestically and worldwide. There were also special responsibilities and duties associated with the development and administering of cross-directorate and multidisciplinary research programs. During my tenure as Program Director, I had the experience of working cooperatively with the scientific community represented by Anthropology, Linguistics, History, Law, Social Psychology, Sociology, and Mathematics. I also had significant responsibilities for developing policy and initiatives with cross-directorate programs focusing on underrepresented minorities, Historically Black Colleges/Universities, computational instrumentation, and Post-doctoral fellowships.

North Carolina A&T State University (1998 - 2002):

- University Tenure & Promotion Committee . Responsible for coordinating, evaluating and assessing tenure and promotion applications for faculty members from all degree granting units.
- Chair, Statistics Committee, Southern Association of Colleges and Schools . Responsible for the compilation, analysis, and reporting of all institutional statistical data relevant for the reaccreditation application/process required by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools (SACS).
- Faculty Search and Screen Committee . Responsible for evaluating and assessing applications for open faculty positions in the School of Business & Economics.
- Post Tenure Review Committee. Responsible for evaluating and assessing faculty post tenure review applications in the School of Business & Economics.

Boards

- Thurgood Marshall Fund, New York, NY: Research Advisory Board Member, 2008 - present.
- Inter-University Consortium for Political and Social Research (ICPSR), University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, MI: Council Member, 2010 - present.

National Economic Association (2000 - 2006):

- President. 2007. Chief executive officer of the National Economic Association. Primary responsibilities include general supervision, direction, and control of the business and affairs of the corporation. Other duties as prescribed from time to time by the board of directors.
presiding over board meetings and serving as a spokesman for the professional/scholarly interests of the membership.
- President-Elect. 2006. Chief executive officer responsible for representing the National Economic Association. Primary responsibilities include organizing the paper sessions for the annual Allied Social Sciences Association meetings, and oversight of finance/budgetary matters.
- Chair, Nominating Committee . Responsible for the tasks of a committee charged to screen and recruit candidates for President, Treasurer, Secretary, and General Director(s) of the National Economic Association.
- General Director, National Economic Association . As one of 15 members of the General Board, I am responsible for exercising oversight of the general operations of the National Economic Association.
