The mission of Morehouse College is to develop men with disciplined minds who will lead lives of leadership and service.
INTRODUCTION

The Morehouse Mission
Morehouse College claims certain foundational principles upon which its entire existence stands. These include an appreciation for the ideals of justice, equality, democracy, liberation, the humane treatment of all people, and the development of the spiritual self and community. Although these standards defy most tools of quantitative measurement, they serve as prime motivators for most of what is done at the College.

Guided by a commitment to excellence, Morehouse, a historically black liberal arts college for men, assumes a special responsibility for teaching students about the history and culture of black people. The College seeks to develop men with disciplined minds, emphasizing the continuing search for truth as a liberating force.

Morehouse prepares its students for leadership and service through instructional programs and extracurricular activities that:

- develop skills in oral and written communications, analytical and critical thinking, and interpersonal relationships;
- foster an understanding and appreciation of the elements and evolution of various cultures and the nature of the physical universe;
- foster understanding and appreciation of the specific knowledge and skills needed for the pursuit of professional careers and/or graduate study; and
- cultivate the personal attributes of confidence, tolerance, morality, ethical behavior, humility, a global perspective, and commitment to social justice.

Equal Opportunity
Morehouse College is a private institution that does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, gender, sexual orientation, disability, or age in its educational programs and activities, or in hiring, training, promotion, or any other term or condition of employment.

The person designated to handle inquiries regarding the College’s non-discrimination policies is the Associate Vice President for Human Resources, 830 Westview Dr., SW, Atlanta, GA 30314, and (470) 639-0358.

Morehouse College supports Title IV of the Civil Rights Act of 1964. The College also supports and complies with section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, which prohibits discrimination on the basis of disability.

(1) The right to consent to disclosures of personally identifiable information contained in the student’s education records, except to the extent that FERPA authorizes disclosure without consent.

One exception that permits disclosure without consent is to school officials with legitimate educational interest. A school official is: a person employed by the College in an administrative, supervisory, academic research, or support staff position (including law enforcement personnel and health staff); a person or company with whom the College has contracted (such as an attorney, auditor or collection agent); a person serving on the Morehouse Board of Trustees; or a student serving on an official committee, such as a disciplinary or grievance committee, or one that is assisting another school official in performing his or her tasks.

A school official has a legitimate educational interest if the official needs to review an education record in order to fulfill his or her professional responsibility. Upon request, the College discloses education records without consent to officials of another school in which a student seeks or intends to enroll.

(4) The right to file a complaint with the U.S. Department of Education concerning alleged failures by the College to comply with the requirements of FERPA. The name and address of the office that administers FERPA is:

In 1867, two years after the Civil War ended, Augusta Institute was established in the basement of Silver Bluff Springfield Baptist Church in Augusta, Ga. Founded in 1787, Springfield Baptist is the oldest independent African American church in the United States. The school’s primary purpose was to prepare black men for ministry and teaching. Today, Augusta Institute is Morehouse College, which is located on a 66-acre campus in Atlanta and enjoys an international reputation for producing leaders who have influenced national and world history.

Augusta Institute was founded by the Rev. William Jefferson White, an Augusta Baptist minister, cabinetmaker and journalist, with the encouragement of the Rev. Richard C. Coulter, a former slave from Augusta, Ga., and the Rev. Edmund Turney, organizer of the National Theological Institute for educating freedmen in Washington, D.C. The Rev. Dr. Joseph T. Robert, trained minister and physician, and the father of the author of Robert’s Rules of Order, was appointed the Institute’s first President by William Jefferson White.

In 1879, Augusta Institute was invited by the Rev. Frank Quarles to move to the basement of Friendship Baptist Church in Atlanta and changed its name to Atlanta Baptist Seminary. Later, the Seminary moved to a 4-acre lot near the site on which the Richard B. Russell Federal Building now stands in downtown Atlanta. Following Robert’s death in 1884, David Foster Estes, a professor at the Seminary, served as the institution’s first Acting President.

In 1885, when Dr. Samuel T. Graves was named the second President, the institution relocated to its current site in Atlanta’s West End community. The campus encompasses a Civil War historic site, where Confederate soldiers staged a determined resistance to Union forces during William Tecumseh Sherman’s famous siege of Atlanta in 1864. The land was a gift from John D. Rockefeller. In 1897, Atlanta Baptist Seminary became Atlanta Baptist College during the administration of Dr. George Sale, a Canadian who served as the third and youngest President from 1890 to 1906.

A new era, characterized by expanded academic offerings and increased physical facilities, dawned when Acting President John Hope later became the fourth President in 1906. A pioneer in the field of education, and recognized as the first civil rights president in the American Academy, he was also the College’s first African American President. Hope, a Phi Beta Kappa graduate of Brown University, encouraged an intellectual climate comparable to what he had known at his alma mater, and openly challenged Booker T. Washington’s view that education for African Americans should emphasize vocational and agricultural skills.

Atlanta Baptist College, already a leader in preparing African Americans for teaching and the ministry, expanded its curriculum and established the tradition of educating leaders for all areas of American life. In addition to attracting a large number of talented faculty and administrators, Hope contributed much to the institution we know today. Upon the death of the College’s founder in 1913, Atlanta Baptist College was named Morehouse College in honor of Henry L. Morehouse, the corresponding secretary of the Northern Baptist Home Mission Society.

Dr. Samuel H. Archer became the fifth President of the College in 1931 and headed the institution during the Great Depression. He gave the school its colors, maroon and white, the same as those of his alma mater, Colgate University. Archer retired for health reasons in 1937. Dr. Charles D. Hubert served as the third Acting President until 1940, when Dr. Benjamin Elijah Mays became the sixth President of Morehouse College.

A nationally noted educator and a mentor to the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. ’48, Mays is recognized as the architect of Morehouse’s international reputation for excellence in scholarship, leadership, and service. During the presidency of Mays, a Phi Beta Kappa graduate of Bates College and the University of Chicago, the number of faculty members grew and the percentage holding doctoral degrees increased from two to 34 out of 65 teachers. The College earned global recognition as scholars from other countries joined the faculty, an increasing number of international students enrolled, and the fellowships and scholarships for study abroad became available.

Morehouse received full accreditation by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools in 1957, and Mays’ 14-year effort to win a chapter of Phi Beta Kappa at Morehouse was realized in 1968. Charles E. Merrill served as chairman of the College’s Board of Trustees and provided funds for faculty and students to study abroad. These persons would be known as Merrill Scholars.

In 1967, Dr. Hugh Morris Gloster ’31, was selected by Dr. Mays to become the first alumnus to serve as President of the College. Under his leadership, Morehouse strengthened its Board of Trustees, conducted a successful $20-million fund-raising campaign, grew the endowment from $3 million to more than $29 million, and added 12 buildings to the campus, including the Martin Luther King Jr. International Chapel. Dr. Lawrence Edward Carter Sr. became the first Dean of the Chapel in 1979. Morehouse established a dual-degree program in engineering with the Georgia Institute of Technology, the University of Michigan, and Boston University. Gloster founded the Morehouse School of Medicine, which became an independent institution in 1981. He appointed Dr. Louis Wade Sullivan ’54, its first dean; Sullivan later became the school’s first President.

In 1987, Dr. Leroy Keith Jr. ’61, was named eighth President of Morehouse. During the Keith administration, the College’s endowment increased to more than $60 million, and faculty salaries and student scholarships significantly increased. Construction of the Nabrit-Mapp-McBay science building was completed, the Thomas Kilgore Jr. Campus Center and two dormitories were built, and Hope Hall was rebuilt. In 1994, Nima A. Warfield, a member of the graduating class that year, was named the College’s first U.S. Rhodes Scholar. Under Dr. Keith’s leadership, the “A Candle in the Dark” Gala was founded in 1989 to raise scholarship funds.

In October 1994, Wiley Abron Perdue ’57, vice president for business affairs, was appointed the fourth Acting President of Morehouse. Under his leadership, national memorials were erected to honor Dr. Benjamin E. Mays and internationally noted theologian Dr. Howard W. Thurman ’23. Perdue launched an initiative to upgrade the College’s academic and administrative computer information systems, finalized plans to build a dormitory, and undertook construction of a 5,700-seat gymnasium to provide a basketball venue for the 1996 Summer Olympic Games. Today, this arena is named for the longtime basketball coach, Franklin L. Forbes.

On June 1, 1995, Dr. Walter Eugene Massey ’58, was named the ninth President of Morehouse College. A noted physicist and university administrator, Massey called on the Morehouse community to renew its longstanding commitment to a culture of excellence. Before joining the College, Massey held several notable positions, including dean of the College and professor of physics at Brown University, professor of physics and vice president for research at the University of Chicago, director of the Argonne National Laboratory and the National Science Foundation, and senior vice president and provost of the University of California System. After leaving Morehouse, he served as chairman of the Bank of America and as president—and currently as chancellor emeritus—of The School of the Art Institute of Chicago. As chairman of the Giant Magellan Telescope Organization, Massey is also responsible for guiding construction of the world’s largest optical telescope.

Under Massey’s leadership, the College embraced his vision of becoming one of the nation’s finest liberal arts colleges and accepted the challenge of providing students with a top-quality, 21st-century education. Morehouse expanded its dual-degree program in natural sciences with Georgia Tech, launched the Center for Excellence in Science, Engineering and Mathematics with a $6.7-million U.S. Defense Department grant, and established a new African American studies program and a Center for International Studies named for former U.N. Ambassador Andrew Young.

The College was reaccredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools, and the Division of Business Administration and Economics was accredited by the American Association of Schools and Colleges of Business, making Morehouse one of only a handful of liberal arts colleges in the nation with both AASCB accreditation and a chapter of Phi Beta Kappa.

The physical infrastructure was also significantly enhanced. Construction was completed on Davidson House Center for Excellence, which serves as the President’s official residence and houses a mini-conference center on its lower level. In 2005, a new Leadership Center was opened with a comprehensive conference center, the Executive Conference Center. Other additions included the John H. Hopps Technology Tower, a 500-car parking deck, and an expanded campus bookstore. Renovations were made to several dormitories, classroom buildings, Archer Hall Recreation Center, Chivers-Lane Dining Hall, and the Martin Luther King Jr. International Chapel.

Under Massey, two more Rhodes Scholars followed: Chris Elders, who received the Rhodes in 2002, and Oluwabusayo “Tope” Folarin, who was named as a Rhodes Scholar in 2004. In June 2006, the College successfully completed Morehouse’s most ambitious capital campaign—raising a record $112 million, which exceeded the Campaign’s goal of $105 million. The same year, Atlanta Mayor Shirley Franklin raised $34 million to give to Morehouse College for the Martin Luther King Jr. Collection. Today, Morehouse is the permanent custodian of this coveted collection, which includes more than 13,000 hand-written notes, sermons, letters, books, and other artifacts belonging to the College’s most noted alumnus, Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. ’48.

On July 1, 2007, the Rev. Dr. Robert Michael Franklin Jr. ’75 was appointed the 10th President of Morehouse College. The former president of the Interdenominational Theological Center had previously served as Presidential Distinguished Professor of Social Ethics at the Candler School of Theology and senior fellow at the Center for the Study of Law and Religion, both at Emory University. He was a program officer in the Human Rights and Social Justice Program at the Ford Foundation and served as Theologian-in-Residence for the Chautauqua Institution, both in New York.

During his tenure, Franklin led the institution forward with his vision of the “Morehouse Renaissance,” further elevating public confidence in the College’s continuing stature as a premier institution providing a high-quality education along with enhancing the intellectual and moral dimension of Morehouse’s mission and mystique. In part, he accomplished this by establishing the concept of the “Five Wells,” an ideal to cultivate men of Morehouse as “Renaissance men with a social conscience and global perspective” who are well-read, well-spoken, well-traveled, well-dressed, and well-balanced.

Under Franklin’s leadership, the College reaffirmed its commitment to academic vigor, qualified by re-accreditation in 2009 by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools. The Quality Enhancement Plan focused on “enhancing the global awareness and competence of Morehouse students.”

In a $20-million project initiated by Massey, Franklin oversaw the completion and opening of the Ray Charles Performing Arts Center and Music Academic Building, a 75,000-square-foot facility named after the late, legendary musician.

Franklin led and supported cultivation efforts—such as establishing the Renaissance Commission, a blue-ribbon group of 150 influential volunteer stakeholders—that increased the total number of new donors by 4,500. The College had generated in excess of $68 million in institutional funds, $33 million during the silent phase of the comprehensive capital campaign and $60 million in restricted funds from federal sources, including congressional appropriations and competitive federal grants.

Dr. Willis Sheffall Jr. ’64 served as the fifth Acting President until January 2013.

On Jan. 28, 2013, Dr. John Silvanus Wilson Jr. ’79, an accomplished university administrator, professor, and former executive director of the White House Initiative on Historically Black Colleges and Universities, stepped into office as the College’s 11th President. Under his leadership, the College improved student achievement across a wide range of metrics. He and his team were champions for STEAM (science, technology, engineering, arts, and math) initiatives for Morehouse students and significantly increased the College’s private gifts, grants, and contracts.

In addition, Wilson played a pivotal role in bringing President Barack Obama to Morehouse as the Commencement speaker in 2013, and, in 2015, hosting Vice President Joseph Biden. In 2016, Prince Abudu became the College’s first International Rhodes Scholar, making him the fourth Rhodes Scholar the College has produced altogether.

President Wilson served the College for four years, ending his tenure on April 7, 2017.
William James Taggart, a graduate of Howard and Harvard universities, assumed the role of the sixth Acting President of the College after serving as the chief operating officer of Morehouse since 2015. With more than 30 years of experience with Fortune 500 companies, higher education, boutique firms, and federal government agencies, Taggart distinguished himself as a results-driven leader in both public and private sectors.

Tragically, just two months after his appointment, Taggart suddenly passed away on June 8, 2017. Acting Provost Michael Hodge then served as the seventh Acting President of Morehouse College.

On June 26, 2017, Harold Martin Jr. ’02 left the Morehouse Board of Trustees temporarily to accept an appointment as the eighth Acting President of Morehouse College. The attorney and business consultant, who has an extensive background in advising senior executives at higher education institutions and Fortune 500 companies, served the College until Dec. 31, 2017. Martin set campus-wide priorities to improve accountability, boost enrollment, increase the graduation rate, and highlight the contributions of young alumni. He guided a rebranding and expansion of the Office of Alumni Engagement to enhance the College’s young alumni recognition and engagement efforts. Martin was also instrumental in the launch of the successful “We are Morehouse” campaign, which featured a website and an online magazine that highlighted the outstanding achievements of young alumni in every career field.

In October 2017, the Morehouse Board of Trustees voted to name Dr. David A. Thomas as the 12th President of Morehouse, ushering in a new era of leadership for the College. Thomas took office on Jan. 1, 2018. A visionary leader, Thomas has more than 30 years of higher education experience as a professor and an administrator. He holds a doctorate in Organizational Behavior Studies and a Master of Philosophy in Organizational Behavior, both from Yale University. He also has a Master of Organizational Psychology degree from Columbia University and a Bachelor of Administrative Sciences degree from Yale College. Thomas is the former H. Naylor Fitzhugh Professor of Business Administration at Harvard Business School and the former Dean of Georgetown University’s McDonough School of Business.

The President is working to raise funds to support campus renovations, faculty research, infrastructure improvements, and other needs. His other priorities include expanding academic and leadership opportunities for students, increasing the graduation rate, and growing the enrollment to 2,500 scholars. During the President’s first year in office, enrollment applications increased by more than 40 percent, and a fifth Rhodes Scholar was named. Franck Nijimbere, a computer science and mathematics major, was selected as a Rhodes Scholar in May 2018. The prestigious honor made Morehouse the top producer of Rhodes Scholars among Historically Black Colleges and Universities.

Under Thomas’ leadership in 2018-19, Morehouse College raised more than $7 million to establish new endowed scholarships, build an outdoor study area and park for students, and support programming at Martin Luther King Jr. International Chapel, thanks to generous donations. In addition, the College received another $4 million dollars in grants to fund the expansion of STEM (science, technology, engineering, and mathematics) education and to launch the comprehensive collegiate writing program, the Black Ink Project, a Quality Enhancement Plan initiative designed to build the critical thinking and writing skills of students across the curriculum.

Morehouse College, the only historically black college for men, continues its long and unique history of delivering an exceptional educational experience that meets the intellectual, moral, and social needs of students representing more than 35 states and 17 countries. Morehouse is the nation’s top producer of black males who continue their education and receive doctorates. The National Science Foundation also ranked Morehouse as the No. 1 producer of black men who receive doctorates in education, life and physical sciences, math and computer sciences, psychology and social sciences, as well as humanities and the arts. Morehouse currently has more than 17,000 alumni.

TRADITIONS

Steeped in history, Morehouse College celebrates its rich heritage by observing important traditions, a number of which are described below:

Morehouse Mystique
A difficult concept to define, the Morehouse Mystique is perhaps best described as the spirit of brotherhood that inspires, nurtures, and sustains successful Morehouse Men in their pursuit of excellence and their commitment to service.

Spiritual Life
Spiritual growth and development are integral to life at Morehouse College. Students receive spiritual nurturing through attending Sunday worship services, serving as chapel assistants, and participating in the annual Science and Spiritual Awareness Week.

Crown Forum
Crown Forum is a College-wide assembly observed on most Thursdays during the academic year. It provides opportunities for students to expand their spiritual and intellectual horizons.

Homecoming
Homecoming is a week of activities that commemorates the annual return of Morehouse alumni to campus. Homecoming typically features the coronation of Miss Maroon and White, a fashion show, parade, concert, and a host of alumni activities. The highlight of Homecoming is a football game, which features the Maroon Tigers versus a Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Conference opponent and the famous half-time “Battle of the Bands.”

Founder’s Day Observance
Founder’s Day Observance, held annually in February, honors the man who established Morehouse College.

Traditionally, the celebration includes a formal convocation featuring a nationally-acclaimed speaker, Parents’ Weekend, and the “A Candle in the Dark” Gala fundraiser.

“A Candle in the Dark”
Established in 1989 and conducted in conjunction with the Founder’s Day Observance, the "A Candle in the Dark" Gala is a major fundraiser for the College’s Endowed Scholarship Fund and serves as a forum for recognizing outstanding contributions to society by black men. The Bennie Award, named in honor of former Morehouse President Dr. Benjamin Elijah Mays, is presented to alumni in three categories: service, achievement, and trailblazing. The Candle Award, given for personal and professional achievement, is presented in a variety of professional fields.

Family Weekend
Family Weekend, held in conjunction with Founder’s Week and the "A Candle in the Dark" Gala, is an opportunity for parents to spend time with their sons and become acquainted with members of the faculty and staff. The weekend features a series of seminars and workshops designed to stimulate dialogue about the academic and social experience at Morehouse.

Reunion: “A Gathering of Men”
The College hosts alumni by classes each May during Commencement weekend. Numerous activities are planned for returning alumni, including The Reunion Golf Classic, a National Alumni Association meeting and luncheon, class meetings, parties, and picnics. One of the highlights of the weekend is the annual Reunion Banquet, where reunion classes present their collective class gifts to the College to benefit the Annual Fund.
“Over the heads of her students, Morehouse holds a crown that she challenges them to grow tall enough to wear.”

Dr. Howard Thurman ’23
Educator, Minister, Theologian, Philosopher and Author

The Howard Washington Thurman Memorial obelisk on the campus of Morehouse College is a celebration of the process of enlightenment, achieved through the deliberate acquisition of knowledge, understanding, and the slow revelation of cosmic wisdom.

The monument rises in the shadow of the Martin Luther King Jr. International Chapel, marking the resting place of Thurman, a 1923 graduate and nationally respected theologian who was considered a forerunner in the religious movement of celebrating the unity of all people, and embracing a religious spirituality that was intercultural, interracial, interdenominational, and international.

During its heyday (1580–1200 B.C.), the obelisk was a sun and light symbol, embodying the transcendence immanent in God’s light. The soaring lines of the obelisk were meant to evoke this transcendence and its capstone, often coated in gold-silver alloy, reflected light that could be seen 50 miles away. Light, consciousness, and understanding were synonymous to the ancient priests of the Nile.

The obelisk remains a symbol of man’s creativity and wisdom. At Morehouse, the monument serves as a beacon for scholarly pursuits, visionary leadership, compassionate service, and a worldview that inspires positive change.
Dear Old Morehouse

J.O.B. Moseley ‘29

Dear Old Morehouse, Dear Old Morehouse,
We have pledged our lives to thee;
And we’ll ever, yea forever
Give ourselves in loyalty.

True forever, true forever,
To old Morehouse may we be;
So to bind each son the other
Into ties more brotherly.

Holy Spirit, Holy Spirit,
Make us steadfast, honest, true,
To old Morehouse, and her ideals,
And in all things that we do.

Fight On Morehouse

Wendell P. Whalum ‘52

Fight on, Morehouse, fight for victory and fame.
Raise your banner to the sky, and we’ll honor your great name, RAH, RAH, RAH!

Fight on Morehouse, ever loyal let us be.
We’ll ever be true, and we’ll always honor you,
So FIGHT, FIGHT, FIGHT!

Men of Morehouse, never stop this battle long.
We will fight for what is right, with our ideals clear and strong, RAH, RAH, RAH!

Marching onward, onward, upward, to the light,
With Morehouse in view, with our courage firm and true, we’ll FIGHT, FIGHT, FIGHT!

Morehouse Victory March

Music by Wendell P. Whalum ‘52
Words by Hugh M. Gloster ‘31

Morehouse — Tigers with a roar like thunder —
Morehouse — We will rip the foe asunder —
Raise the Maroon and the White —
Fight, fellows, fight, fight, fight for Morehouse — College that we must mount high for — Morehouse — Great old school we’ll do and die for
On, on, on to Victory for Morehouse, our Alma Mater!

Morehouse College

Words by Mordecai W. Johnson, 1911

Morehouse College, Morehouse College,
Morehouse College, bless her name —
Whether in defeat or victory,
We are loyal just the same.
And we’ll cheer for Morehouse College
’Tis for her we’ll fight for fame;
And we’ll sing her praises loud in every land,
Morehouse College, bless her name.

BLACK NATIONAL ANTHEM

Lift Ev’ry Voice and Sing

Words by James Weldon Johnson
Music by J. Rosamond Johnson

Lift every voice and sing,
Till earth and heaven ring,
Ring with the harmonies of liberty;
Let our rejoicing rise
High as the list’ning skies,
Let it resound loud as the rolling sea.
Sing a song full of the faith that the dark past has taught us;
Sing a song full of the hope that the present has brought us;
Facing the rising sun
Of our new day begun,
Let us march on till victory is won.

Stony the road we trod,
Bitter the chast’ning rod,
Felt in the days when hope unborn had died;
Yet with a steady beat,
Have not our weary feet
Come to the place for which our fathers sighed?
We have come over a way that with tears has been watered;
We have come, treading our path thru the blood of the slaughtered;
Out from the gloomy past, Till now we stand at last
Where the white gleam of our bright star is cast.

God of our weary years,
God of our silent tears,
Thou who has brought us thus far on the way;
Thou who has by thy might
Led us into the light,
Keep us forever in the path, we pray.
Lest our feet stray from the places, our God,
where we met Thee;
Lest our hearts, drunk with the wine of the world,
we forget Thee;
Shadowed beneath Thy hand,
May we forever stand,
True to our God, true to our native land.

This includes training students in the principles of virtue-ethics, nonviolence, service, and harmony, as well as offering programming that develops awareness and skills in vocational discernment, love and forgiveness, and peace and nonviolence.

The chapel is the sponsor of the College of Ministers and Laity: a member of the International Council of Community Churches of Christ. It is also affiliated with the Christian Council of Metropolitan Atlanta, the Association of Global New Thought, the Fellowship for Reconciliation, the Foundation for Community Encouragement Science, and “Spirit” magazine.

Special attention is given to the spiritual needs of Morehouse students. In the life and discipline of the school, constant effort is made to inculcate Christian principles. The Morehouse College Bookstore, located on the lower level of the parking deck on Westview Drive, sells new and used textbooks, course-related reference materials, general reading books on a variety of topics, periodicals, clothing, memorabilia, gift items, teaching supplies, computers, computer products, electronic games, and office supplies for the community, guests, and visitors. The store is uniquely designed to serve the needs of Morehouse College and carries a wide range of Morehouse-themed merchandise, along with general merchandise to cater to various interests and needs.

The average student’s book expense is $650 per semester. We know books are big-ticket items during college. To help ease the burden, we now offer students the option of renting textbooks. In addition to saving students’ money, the Rent-A-Text program offers convenience and flexibility. On average, a student can save more than half the price of a new book.

The bookstore also offers students access to a world of interactive digital content through a product called CaféScribe. By allowing students to read, highlight, take notes, and share their information digitally, hundreds of students and professors are provided with unprecedented levels of interaction.

At the end of each semester, the bookstore has a buyback program that allows students to sell their books back to the bookstore. The value of the used book depends upon many things, including: whether a professor still requires the book; how old the book is; how many the bookstore already has; and the book’s condition. The bookstore also offers Guaranteed Buyback, which means that if a book is sold to the bookstore, the seller is guaranteed to get at least 50 percent of the purchase price.

For added convenience, and with the popularity of student and alumni shopping on the internet, all merchandise sold in the bookstore can be ordered through the website, www.morehouse.bkst.com or at efollett.com, and shipped via FedEx. Special orders are another means that the bookstore uses to meet the needs of its customers. By using electronic networks, customers may rapidly receive books from both foreign and domestic publishers. Educational software is also available through the bookstore’s website. Qualified customers—students, faculty, or staff—will find great educational discounts with savings up to 85 percent off the commercial software list.

The bookstore accepts cash, gift cards, personal checks, certified checks, cashier’s checks, money orders, and AMEX, VISA, MasterCard, and Discover credit cards for all purchases. Students may also pay using student voucher accounts provided they have the funds available and proper authorization. Students who have credit balances on their accounts may use this balance at any time to purchase any merchandise.

Student Grievance Policy

Policy Statement
Morehouse College seeks to cultivate an academic village that encourages tolerant, respectful, and non-discriminatory behavior from all of its inhabitants. An environment that promotes communication, fairness, and deference among students, faculty, staff, and administration is of the highest priority to the College. To ensure that these behaviors are appropriately facilitated, Morehouse College has instituted policies that provide a medium for resolving discrepancies of any nature. The following rules explain how to file a grievance against members of the College community:

Grievances
A “grievance” shall be defined as an actual or supposed circumstance that is regarded as just cause for complaint.

The “griever” shall be the Complainant.

The “Respondent” shall be the defendant.

- The expression of a grievance may be verbal or written, using an approved format issued by the Office of Student Services.
- The process of execution of a grievance may be of a formal resolution procedure or an informal resolution procedure with a contingency of transposition.

- A grievance may also be co-authored if a circumstance affects more than one student.

General Grievance
A grievance issued by a student against any member of the College Community that violates the statues expressed in the Grievance Policy Statement.

Grade Discrepancy
A grievance issued by a student whose intention is to dispute a grade given in any course that he believes was given in an arbitrary or capricious manner by a professor.

Sexual Harassment
A student-issued grievance, the nature of which is explicitly sexual. The foundation of this grievance is infringement (in any manner) of the College's Sexual Assault/Harassment Policy outlined in the Student Handbook.

Discrimination
A grievance issued by a student who has experienced treatment or consideration based on: class or category rather than individual merit; or partiality or prejudice founded in ethnicity, gender, age, religion, sexual orientation, or disability.

Informal Resolution Procedure
The Informal Resolution Procedure invites all parties (the grieved and the Respondent) utilizing effective communication, to discuss the grieved circumstance and deduce a viable solution that is agreed upon by all parties involved. Students should take proactive measures to resolve their grievance with respondents and make notations of such measures. Students are also encouraged to employ the use of a third-party mediator, who is agreed-upon by all parties, in the event that effective communication warrants such an intermediary.

If a student finds his issue unsatisfactorily resolved, or the Respondent uncooperative or evasive, then he may appeal to the respondent’s superior to obtain a desirable resolution.

Formal Resolution Procedure
The Formal Resolution Procedure may be used if, and only if, the Informal Resolution Procedure has failed to yield a satisfactory result for the student, based on irreconcilable differences. The Formal Resolution Procedure begins with filing a written grievance (using a format published by the Office of Student Services) with the Office of Student Services.

- Written grievances must be filed within 30 days of the occurrence. Grievances filed after the 30-day deadline will be considered at the discretion of the College Judiciary Committee or the Honor and Conduct Review Board.
• Grievances filed using the Formal Resolution Procedure that are discovered to have been filed under false pretenses will be dismissed immediately, and the filer may be subject to corrective action.

• Formal grievances must not conflict with any other policy expressly stated by the College.

• All formal grievances will be kept confidential except for the privilege of those parties involved and authorized members of the College. This Confidentiality Agreement may be voided with the consent of all parties involved in the grievance.

• The Formal Resolution Procedure may not be used as a medium for retaliation, intimidation, or coercion. Such cases shall be expelled indefinitely.

The Process:
1. File formal grievance
   A formal grievance is filed with the Office of Student Services through the Attorney General (appointed by the Student Government Association president).

   a. Copy of grievance sent to the designated superiors. A designated superior has the authority to enforce a resolution ruled by the College Student Conduct Committee or Honor and Conduct Review Board. Should the superior find a resolution unenforceable, he may offer an alternate solution within three business days. The griever and the student conduct administrator must approve the alternate resolution.

2. Preliminary mediation hearing
   The appointed student conduct administrator will determine the grievability of all cases. Cases found to be incredulously based and/or in violation of the statues of the Formal Resolution Procedure will be dismissed. Dismissed cases are incontestable and may not be appealed.

   a. A written notice will be issued by the Office of Student Services to all parties involved (griever and Respondent) informing them of the date, time, and location of the hearing. Hearings of both parties will be held separately, and the grievability will be determined thereafter.

   b. The student conduct administrator, after discussing the position of both parties and a possible resolution, will submit a written recommendation to the College Judiciary Committee or the Honor and Conduct Review Board.

   c. The student conduct administrator will refer cases to either the College Judiciary Committee or the Honor and Conduct Review Board at his/her discretion.

3. College Judiciary Committee Hearing/Honor and Conduct Review Board
   The CJC/ HCRB will hear the case with all parties present and deliver an equitable and unbiased resolution.

   a. The attorney general may represent the student griever.

   b. The CJC/ HCRB have 24 hours to make a ruling. In extenuating circumstances that require longer deliberation, the CJC/ HCRB must inform all parties of the extension.

4. Resolution
   Resolutions given by the CJC/ HCRB are forwarded to the respondent’s superior to execute, and a copy of the grievance will be retained in the employee’s file with the Office of Human Resources. In student cases, the superior shall be the Department of Student Conduct, who will execute the decision of the CJC/ HCRB.

5. Appeals
   Appeals must be filed within seven days of receiving a decision from CJC/ HCRB. Appeals may only be filed if there is any new evidence/information that could sway the CJC/ HCRB to overturn their decision.

   a. Appeals should be filed with the Office of Student Services and the appointed student conduct administrator through the attorney general. The Assistant Dean of the College for Student Conduct will deny or grant the appeal and decide a viable resolution to the case.

   b. If the student conduct administrator does not find a substantial basis for appeal, the case is thereby closed.

MOREHOUSE COLLEGE'S STUDENT RIGHTS AND RESPONSIBILITIES

All students at Morehouse College are considered to be responsible adults. Therefore, each student shall be held accountable for his own personal behavior. The College expects all students to learn and obey local, state, and federal laws. In addition, students are expected to observe and adhere to the Code of Conduct.

Morehouse College students are responsible for reading, knowing, and observing all policies and procedures related to their in-class behavior and their on- and off-campus conduct. Information regarding these policies and procedures can be found in the Morehouse College Student Handbook and online. A student’s lack of awareness about any Morehouse College policies or procedures shall not constitute grounds to be absolved from violations of those policies.

Student rights are as follows:

- Morehouse College is a private institution committed to equal opportunity and basic human rights for all students. Morehouse College does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, sex, disability, or age in its programs and activities.
- Every student has the right to view educational records as required, according to the Federal Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) of 1974.
- The right to request an amendment of the student’s education record that a student believes is inaccurate or misleading.
- The right to consent to disclosures of personally identifiable information contained in the student’s education records, except to the extent that FERPA authorizes disclosure without consent.
- The right to file a complaint with the Department of Education concerning alleged failures by the College to comply with requirements of FERPA.

STUDENT RIGHTS

Academic Rights
Morehouse College supports the right to academic freedom for every student in pursuit of his education. This includes the freedom to learn, freedom to teach, and the freedom to speak the truth, all of which should be done in an atmosphere of mutual respect.

Freedom of Speech
Morehouse College fully supports the rights of students to assemble peacefully and to express themselves in a manner in which order is maintained.

Freedom to Learn
Morehouse College has determined that “all students shall be responsible for conducting themselves in a manner that helps to enhance an environment of learning in which the rights, dignity, worth, and freedom of each member of the academic community is respected.”

Right of Confidentiality
No information or documentation referring to a student’s academic or personal life is released to any party outside the College without the written permission of the student. Any request from a current student or former student to release information to a third party must be made in writing and include the student’s signature. Students have the right to inspect and review their own official records, except letters of recommendation.

Participation in Institutional Governance
Morehouse College encourages students to involve themselves in activities associated with the governance of the College by serving on the various committees, councils, and task forces that are charged with making decisions regarding Morehouse College.

Student Grievances
Students who encounter disputes with faculty or staff members of Morehouse College should first report any such grievance to the program/department head. This step should be followed by conferences with persons at progressively higher levels, including deans and the appropriate vice president.

Student Conduct
Students who attend Morehouse College are expected to conduct themselves in a manner consistent with life at an academic institution. The Code of Conduct, intended to reinforce this policy, is published in the Student Handbook and online.

- Student Conduct will provide a fair hearing for all parties involved in an incident that may result in a violation of the student conduct code.
- Any students subject to the student conduct process will have their violation(s) reviewed by the following:
  a. Honor & Conduct Review Board
  b. College Judiciary Committee
  c. Administrator as deemed appropriate
- All students shall be presented with their alleged violations in written form. A time shall be set for a hearing, not less than five, nor more than 15, calendar days after the student has been notified. Maximum time limits for scheduling of hearings may be extended at the discretion of the Director of Student Advocacy and Accountability.
• Students subject to suspension or dismissal may submit an appeal, in writing, to the Director of Student Advocacy and Accountability within four business days after they are notified of the decision and sanction imposed.

Generally, the College jurisdiction and discipline shall apply to conduct that occurs on/off College premises or which adversely affects the College community and/or the pursuit of its objectives.

• Students and student organizations will be considered for disciplinary action whenever violations are committed on or at a College-sponsored event. Whenever conduct violates both the law and guidelines found in this document, disciplinary action may be taken by the College irrespective of, and separate from, action taken by civil authorities.

Right to Be Heard
Students who are in alleged violation of the Code of Conduct of the Morehouse College Student Handbook are entitled to the right to be heard, the right to conference, and the right to a hearing to refute alleged violations against them. A student who has been found responsible for violating the Code of Conduct will be subject to disciplinary action recommended either by their peers of the Honor and Conduct Review Board (HCRB) or with faculty, staff, and students of the College.

• Judiciary Committee (CJC) and/or Director of Student Advocacy and Accountability.

• The Assistant Dean of the College for Student Conduct may choose one of the methods by which the hearing is being conducted.

Student responsibilities are as follows:
• Morehouse is an academic community. All members of the community are expected to abide by ethical standards, both in their conduct and in their exercise of responsibilities toward other members of the community. The Morehouse College Policy on Academic Integrity establishes the basis for academic standards at the College and the procedures for handling violations. The policy is based on the understanding that actions in this regard should serve both an educational and disciplinary function.

• The College expects students to understand and adhere to basic standards of honesty and academic integrity.

• The College has expectations that each Morehouse student will exhibit the qualities of integrity, leadership, tolerance, respect for persons and property, and compliance with all rules and regulations.

• Comply with all local, state, and federal laws.

• Refrain from abusive behavior and sexual misconduct.

THE MOREHOUSE COLLEGE STUDENT CREED

The community of scholars at Morehouse College is dedicated to personal and academic excellence.

Choosing to live in the community obligates each member to a code of civilized behavior.

Allegiance to these ideals requires each Morehouse student to refrain from, and discourage, behaviors that threaten the freedom and respect every individual deserves.

As a Morehouse student,

• I will practice personal and academic integrity.

• I will respect the rights and property of others.

• I will discourage bigotry while striving to learn from differences in people, ideas, and opinions.

• I will demonstrate concern for others, their feelings, and their needs for conditions that support their work and development.

Man of Morehouse College
CLASS EXCUSE POLICY

Each Morehouse student is expected to attend scheduled classes on a routine basis and be punctual. However, class excuses may be granted for the following reasons, with valid written documentation:

- Illness
- Physician’s appointment
- Court appearances
- Funeral
- Military obligation
- Family emergency
- Conference with dean/faculty/staff
- Official school business

Unexcused absences include the following:

- Public transportation problems
- Oversleeping
- Automobile breakdowns

The Senior Student Affairs Officer/Dean of the College for Student Services or his designee may provide verification of all official class excuses. Valid, written documentation must be submitted to justify class absences within five calendar days of the class absence.

For students from other institutions attending Morehouse classes, the same policies and procedures apply, except that excuses should come from the equivalent officials of the institutions involved.

Class excuses are not issued during the summer sessions.

PHILOSOPHY OF CONDUCT AND DISCIPLINE SYSTEM

The conduct and discipline system affects and applies to all currently enrolled students at the College. Its major purpose is to maintain the integrity of the College and members of the College community, to promote and preserve an orderly environment, to exercise proper control over disciplinary matters, and to implement established student conduct procedures in matters affecting all students accused of violating College policies, rules, and regulations.

This system is also a developmental tool with two main objectives. While its primary objective is to provide a safe, secure, and hospitable environment for all students and visitors, a secondary goal is to assist students in developing a high degree of integrity and moral character by encouraging acceptance of personal responsibility for behavior. Similarly, the conduct and discipline system attempts to modify those behaviors deemed unacceptable by the College, including, but not limited to, lewd, rude, slanderous, or hostile behavior toward anyone by a Morehouse student.

JURISDICTION OF THE COLLEGE

The Student Code of Conduct and the processes for its administration and enforcement exist for the protection and advancement of the Morehouse College community. Generally, College jurisdiction and discipline shall apply to conduct that occurs on College premises and at College-sponsored events, and to off-campus conduct that adversely affects the College community and/or the pursuit of its objectives. Each student shall be responsible for his conduct from the time of application for admission through the actual awarding of a degree, including times before classes begin, after classes end, and between terms of actual enrollment. The Student Code of Conduct shall apply to a student’s conduct even if the student withdraws from school while a disciplinary matter is pending. The Student Code of Conduct applies to individual students and College-affiliated student organizations. In many instances, a violation of federal, state, and local law may also be treated as a violation of College regulations. The Director of Student Relations and Ombudsperson and the Dean of the College and/or Associate Vice President for Student Services shall decide on a case-by-case basis whether the Student Code of Conduct shall be applied to conduct occurring off-campus.

STUDENT CONDUCT REVIEW PROCESS

The informal student conduct and discipline system is to provide a fair hearing for all parties involved in an incident that may have resulted in a violation of the student conduct code. Another goal seeks to help College students develop a high degree of integrity and moral character by encouraging acceptance of personal responsibility for their behavior. The informal hearing is designed with this in mind.

The informal hearing is a private conference that is held to make sure that all parties fully understand the allegations of misconduct and the College student conduct process. This hearing is scheduled when the “notification of violation” is prepared and sent to the referred student(s) via mail, hand delivery, and/or electronic means. Students who choose to assume individual responsibility for their behavior through this process are not required to have a formal hearing.

Acceptance of responsibility

A student who accepts responsibility shall be advised:

1. That he has the right, but is not required, to provide additional information regarding the allegations.
2. That the Director of Student Advocacy and Accountability and the Dean of the College or a designee shall make a determination about sanctions unless the offense is a major violation for which suspension or expulsion may be imposed.

3. That the student waives his right to have the matter heard in the formal process by a student conduct body (HRCB/ CJC).

4. That any sanctions imposed may not be appealed to the College Appellate Committee.

5. That the student’s acceptance of responsibility must be in writing on a form provided by the Director of Student Advocacy and Accountability and the Dean of the College or a designee. This form must be signed and dated by the student and is maintained in the student’s file within the Department of Student Advocacy and Accountability and the Dean of the College.

A student who chooses not to assume individual responsibility for his behavior through this process is required to have a formal hearing.

Denial of responsibility
A student who denies responsibility or prefers to have the violation heard by a student conduct body (HRCB/ CJC) shall be advised:

• That he need not provide any additional information regarding the alleged violation to the Director of Student Advocacy and Accountability and the Dean of the College or a designee during the formal hearing.

• That notice shall be given about the time and location of a hearing at least five business days prior to such hearing, if one had not been scheduled. No hearing will be held unless the student has been given at least five business days’ notice.

• That the student must provide an address, electronic or otherwise, to receive notice of proceedings.

• That the student has a right to an advisor of the student’s choice as set out, and that the student is advised to have an advisor, but is required to have an advisor in all suspension and expulsion cases.

• That the student’s denial of responsibility shall be written on a form provided by the Director of Student Advocacy and Accountability and the Dean of the College or designee. This form must be signed and dated by the student and is maintained in the student’s file within the Department of Student Conduct.

The formal hearing is designed to afford students “fundamental fairness” by peer or faculty/staff review. All students subjected to student conduct action must have their alleged violations reviewed by the following: a) the Honor and Conduct Review Board (HCRB); b) the College Judiciary Committee (CJC); c) the College Appellate Committee (CAC); or d) an appropriate College administrator.

Honor and Conduct Review Board (HCRB)
• Students are referred to the HCRB by the Director of Student Advocacy and Accountability and the Dean of the College for minor violations of the Code of Conduct so that their cases may be reviewed by their peers. In this type of hearing, there are five student justices who will review the violation using the same procedures applicable to College Judiciary Committee hearings. The chief justice of the HCRB, who is appointed by the SGA president, will serve as the chairperson for this HCRB. The student justices who compose the HCRB, serve for approximately one (1) academic year and are elected by their class during the annual SGA student elections. If a student justice seat is vacant after an election, the SGA president will appoint a designee. The HCRB can only make recommendations to its adviser. The Assistant Dean of the College for Student Conduct or a designee is responsible for administrating the conduct and discipline system, serves as the adviser, and will notify the student(s) of the final decision.

College Judiciary Committee (CJC)
Students may be appointed to serve on the CJC by the Director of Student Advocacy and Accountability and the Dean of the College. The committee consists of a group of five members of the faculty, staff, and students.

The exact membership of a committee may vary. Staff members on the CJC serve a minimum two-year term. Students who serve on the CJC are allowed to serve a maximum term limit of two years. Faculty representatives on the CJC are appointed by the Senior Vice President/Provost for Academic Affairs and serve a minimum two-year term. In the event that a CJC member seat is vacant or absent, the Vice President for Student Development or a designee shall select and appoint from an approved group of faculty, staff, and students to serve on the CJC as alternates.

College Appellate Committee (CAC)
Students may be appointed to serve on the CAC by the Vice President for Student Development or a designee. The committee consists of a group of five members of the faculty, staff, and students.

The exact membership of a committee may vary. Staff members on the CAC serve a minimum two-year term. Students who serve on the CAC are allowed to serve a maximum term limit of two years. Faculty representatives on the CAC are appointed by the Senior Vice President/Provost for Academic Affairs, and each serve a minimum two-year term. In the event that a CAC member seat is vacant or absent, the Vice President for Student Development or designee shall select and appoint from an approved group of faculty, staff, and students to serve on the CAC as alternates.

The Director of Student Advocacy and Accountability will automatically refer cases involving a recommendation for suspension or expulsion to the CAC. The student may file a written appeal with the CAC within four business days* after he is notified of the recommendation of the HCRB or CJC by the Assistant Dean of the College for Student Conduct. Appeals are limited to questions of improper procedure, excessive sanction, or the availability of new information that was unavailable to the student at the time of his formal review.

Following the review, the CAC shall deliberate privately and vote on whether to uphold the recommendation of the HCRB or CJC. The CAC may deny the appeal, reduce the sanction, or, in the instance of improper procedure or new information, remand the matter to the appropriate party for a new hearing. The judgment of the CAC shall be determined by a majority vote and shall be considered the final judgment of the College on the matter.

Standards of Proof
The core issue in every student disciplinary violation is "conduct." College procedures need not be bound by the same standards of proof as a court of law. Recommendation by the Student Conduct Hearing Panel shall be based on a "preponderance of the evidence." The preponderance of evidence means that it is more likely than not that the alleged violations occurred and that the accused student was responsible for the violation. The burden of proof in student conduct hearings will be on the side of the Complainant. It is the responsibility of the accused student to present information that could clear him of the offenses he has been accused of violating. Naturally, the more serious the incident, the stricter the scrutiny.

Student Disciplinary Records
All records concerning Code violation hearings under this procedure shall be held in the Department of Student Conduct. Disciplinary records are confidential and will not be released outside the College without the student’s written permission or by order of a court of law. Exceptions are noted below. A copy of disciplinary case materials will stay in a student’s file until approximately seven years after graduation, at which time they will be purged and/or destroyed. Student disciplinary records are maintained in the Department of Student Advocacy and Accountability. All student records shall be protected according to the provisions of the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 (FERPA).

Notification of student conduct action is made on a “need to know” basis and may include notification to: the Athletic Department in cases involving student-athletes; the Music Department in cases involving Glee Club, jazz, and marching band members; the Housing and Residential Education Department in cases involving residence hall students; and victims of violent crimes involving student perpetrators. Copies of all student conduct sanction letters are sent to the Director of Student Advocacy and Accountability and the Dean of the College.

In the case of a suspension or dismissal, notification is sent to the Senior Student Affairs Officer and Dean of the College/Provost for Academic Affairs, Vice President for Student Development, Associate Vice President of College for Student Services, Associate Dean of Admissions and Assistant Dean of Records and Registrar, Chief of Campus Police, Dean of Housing and Residential Education, and the student.

Provisions for Process
If a student is charged with an off-campus violation of federal, state, or local laws that demonstrates flagrant disregard for the College community, the Assistant Dean of the College for Student Conduct or designee may conduct an investigation to determine if the violation has merit and/or if it can be disposed of administratively by mutual consent of the parties involved on a basis acceptable to the Senior Student Affairs Officer and Dean of the College, Associate Vice President for Student Services. Such disposition shall be final, and there will be no subsequent proceedings. If the violation cannot be disposed of by mutual consent, the Director of Student Advocacy and Accountability and the Dean of the College or designee may later serve in the same matter as the HCRB, CJC or a member thereof.

All violations shall be presented to the accused student in written form. A time shall be set for a hearing, not less than five and no more than 15 calendar days after the student has been notified. The scheduling of hearings may be extended at the discretion of the Director of Student Advocacy and Accountability and the Dean of the College or designee.

The HCRB and CJC will conduct hearings according to the following guidelines:

1. Hearings normally will be conducted in private, with the admission of others subject to the discretion of the chief justices and/or chairperson. With the written consent of the students involved and the Director of Student Advocacy and Accountability and the Dean of the College, a representative of the student media may be admitted but shall not have the privilege of participating in the hearing.
2. Hearings shall be conducted by the College Judiciary Committee, Honor Conduct Review Board, or the Director of Student Advocacy and Accountability and the Dean of the College.

3. All student conduct violations shall be presented to the accused student in written form via certified mail, hand delivery, or electronic notification by the Director of Student Advocacy and Accountability and the Dean of the College.

4. If a student fails to obey the summons of a College official, the student shall forfeit his opportunity to bring forth information and/or testimony.

5. There shall be a single verbatim record, such as a tape recording, of all hearings before a HCRB and/or CJC. The record shall be the property of the College.

6. In hearings involving more than one accused student, the chairperson of the CJC or Chief Justice, at his or her discretion, may permit the hearings to be conducted separately.

7. The Complainant and the accused student have the right to be assisted by an advisor of their choice; however, the advisor must be a member of the College community and cannot be an attorney or parent. The Complainant and the accused student are responsible for presenting their own information and, therefore, advisors are not permitted to speak or to participate directly in any hearing before a HCRB and CJC. A student should select as an advisor a person whose schedule allows attendance at the scheduled date and time for the student conduct hearing because delays will not normally be allowed due to the scheduling conflicts of an advisor.

8. The Complainant, the accused student, and the HCRB and CJC may arrange for witnesses who are identified by the Complainant and/or accused student at least two business days prior to the hearing. Witnesses will provide information and answer questions from the HCRB and CJC. The Complainant and the accused student may indirectly pose questions to each other and to witnesses; more specifically, they will address their questions to the chairperson or chief justice rather than to the witnesses or each other. This method is used to preserve the educational tone of the hearing and to avoid the creation of an adversarial environment. Decisions about whether or not potential information will be received by the HCRB and CJC shall be made by the chairperson or chief justice.

9. Pertinent records, exhibits, and written statements may be accepted as information for consideration by the CJC or HCRB at the discretion of the chairperson or chief justice.

10. All procedural questions are subject to the final decision of the chairperson or chief justice of the CJC or HCRB.

11. Formal rules of process, procedure, and/or technical rules of information, such as those applied to criminal or civil courts, are not used in student conduct code proceedings.

12. After the hearing, the HCRB and/or CJC shall determine whether the student has violated the conduct code.

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY POLICY

Morehouse is an academic community. All members of the community are expected to abide by ethical standards both in their conduct and in their exercise of responsibilities toward other members of the community. The Morehouse College Policy on Academic Integrity establishes the basis for academic standards at the College and the procedures for handling violations of them. The policy is based on the understanding that disciplinary actions for academic dishonesty should serve both an educational and disciplinary function.

The College expects students to understand and adhere to basic standards of honesty and academic integrity. Actions that are dishonest or that lack integrity include, but are not limited to:

Plagiarism

The term “plagiarism” includes, but is not limited to, the use by paraphrase or direct quotation, from the published or unpublished work of another person without full and clear acknowledgment. It also includes the unacknowledged use of materials prepared by another person or agency engaged in the selling of term papers and other academic materials.

In projects and assignments prepared independently, students must never represent the ideas or the language of others as their own.

Destruction of Resources or the Work of Others

Students must not destroy or alter either the work of other students or the educational resources and materials of the College.

Use of Work in One Course from Another

Students must not take unfair advantage of fellow students by representing work completed for one course as original work for another or by deliberately disregarding course rules and regulations.
Cheating

Students must not engage in cheating in completing coursework. Unless directed by a faculty member, students should neither give nor receive assistance on assignments or examinations.

The term “cheating” includes, but is not limited to:

1. the use of any unauthorized assistance in taking quizzes, tests, or examinations;
2. dependence upon the aid of sources beyond those authorized by the instructor in writing papers;
3. preparing reports, solving problems, or carrying out other assignments;
4. the acquisition, without permission, of tests or other academic material belonging to a member of the College faculty or staff.

Incorrect Reporting of Data

In laboratory research projects involving the collection of data, students must accurately report data observed and not alter or falsify data for any reason.

Review Process for Alleged Violations of the Academic Integrity Policy

Phase I: Faculty Action and Mediation

As used in this policy, the term “days” shall mean calendar days or work days in which the College is in session, including reading and examination periods, but excluding weekends and the days after the last examination in the semester and the first day of class in another. Faculty members who suspect a violation of academic integrity should adhere to the following procedures:

• If the faculty member believes that the violation resulted from an error in judgment and was unintentional, he or she may, at his or her discretion, elect to handle the matter preliminarily. If the instance can be used to educate the student about appropriate academic standards, the faculty member shall inform the student of the charge, meet to discuss the matter, and then take action within the context of the course. Permitted actions of a faculty member in such an instance shall include: requiring the student to repeat the assignment or examination; requiring the student to complete an alternate assignment or examination; or issuing a failing grade for the assignment, examination, or course. The faculty member shall notify the student of his or her decision and the manner in which it was resolved.

• In the case of a course failure, a notice must be given in writing to the student and the Dean of Records and Registration. A student who receives a failing grade in the course in this manner may appeal the decision to the Divisional Dean.

• If a faculty member elects to address the violation in an academic manner, he or she shall send written notification of the charge and action taken to the dean for the division in which the student has declared his major. (Note: the faculty chair in the student’s declared major is responsible for reporting/monitoring multiple violations of this policy).

• If possible, this situation may be disposed of administratively by mutual consent or through a process of mediation between the student and the faculty person. If a resolution is reached, the Student Conduct Administrator may impose sanctions, up to and including dismissal from College.

Phase II: Formal Review

At the time that an HCRB is impaneled, the coordinator shall, by mail or hand delivery, furnish the student with a written notice of the violation and the date, time, and place for the hearing, which shall be held at least five calendar days, but not more than 10 days,* after the board is impaneled.

The HCRB shall conduct a formal review of all violations and information. At the proceeding, the student will be afforded the opportunity to respond. The faculty member also shall be available to make a report to the board.

After reviewing the information, including the statements of all witnesses, the HCRB shall meet in closed session to determine whether a violation of the academic integrity code has occurred. If a majority of the members of the HCRB determine that the violation is supported by a preponderance of the information, then the HCRB shall determine the appropriate penalties. Alternatively, the HCRB may make a recommendation to the Student Conduct Administrator, who may accept, reject, or modify the HCRB recommendation but may not impose any penalty greater than the one imposed by the HCRB.

If the student fails to appear at the time and place appointed for the hearing, the HCRB may proceed without him. Legal counsel or parents will not be permitted to participate in the formal review of HCRB proceedings.

The penalties that may be imposed by the HCRB shall include:

1. The student must repeat the assignment or exam or complete an alternative assignment.
2. The student receives an F on the assignment or exam.
3. The student receives an F in the class.
4. The student receives an F in the class, and a notation is made on the student’s record.
5. The student receives an F in the class, with or without a notation to the student’s record, and the student is placed on academic probation.
Phase III: The Appeals Process

In all matters pending before them, the Assistant Dean of the College for Student Conduct or the HCRB, as appropriate, shall notify the student in writing of the findings and the penalty imposed. The student will be informed of his right to appeal to the College Appellate Committee (CAC). The Assistant Dean of the College for Student Conduct will automatically refer cases involving decisions for suspension or expulsion to the CAC. The student may file a written appeal with the CAC within four business days* after he is notified of the decision of the Assistant Dean of the College for Student Conduct or HCRB. Appeals are limited to questions of improper procedure, excessive sanction, or the availability of new evidence that was unavailable to the student at the time of his informal review or the original HCRB meeting.

Following review, the CAC shall deliberate privately and vote on whether to uphold the decision of the Assistant Dean of the College for Student Conduct or HCRB. The CAC may deny the appeal, reduce the sanction, or, in the instance of improper procedure or new evidence, remand the matter to the appropriate party for a new hearing. The judgment of the CAC shall be determined by a majority vote and shall be considered the final judgment of the College on the matter.

COLLEGE GENERAL STATEMENT ON CONTROLLED SUBSTANCES AND ALCOHOL

The unlawful use, possession, distribution, sale or manufacture of controlled substances or alcoholic beverages, including the improper use of prescription medicines by Morehouse students, is strictly prohibited. Any student found in violation of this policy will be subject to disciplinary action.

Alcoholic Beverage Policy

The College does not condone the misuse or abuse of alcoholic beverages. Members of the College community are held accountable for their decisions regarding their use of alcohol, as well as behavior that occurs as a result of alcohol use. For students who violate this policy, specific sanctions include, but are not limited to, the following:

1. Automatic disciplinary probation for first-time violators of the policy (includes possession or consumption).
2. Suspension from the College for second-time violators of the policy (includes possession or consumption).
3. Permanent expulsion from the College for third-time violators of the policy (includes possession or consumption).

Controlled Substances* Policy

*The term “controlled substances” is used in this Handbook instead of the term “drugs” for two reasons. First, the term “drugs” refers to any chemical substances that, when taken into the body, change the chemistry and functioning of the body. These changes may be positive or negative. Drugs that have a therapeutic effect are generally called “medicine.” Those with negative effects have usually been called “drugs.” For a great many persons in society, the term "drug" carries a negative connotation, but it is not always accurately used. Secondly, “controlled substances” is a term that refers to any chemical substances whose distribution and/or use is controlled or prohibited by some law or statute, or whose distribution and/or use is permitted by a prescription issued by a licensed practitioner. This term is useful in that it also distinguishes so-called “over-the-counter” drugs from prescription and illegal drugs that, in essence, compose the “controlled substances.” Moreover, controlled substances are classified under the Drug Enforcement Act into schedules that indicate their relative medicinal use and probability of abuse and dependence (addiction).

Morehouse College does not condone the misuse or abuse of controlled substances. The Assistant Dean of the College for Student Conduct or the HCRB and/or CJC will determine on a case-by-case basis the nature of the sanctions against students who violate this policy. Specific sanctions include, but are not limited to:

1. Alcohol
2. Automatic suspension from the College for first-time violators of the policy on possession, distribution, sale or manufacture of illegal drugs.
3. Permanent expulsion from the College for second-time violators of the policy on possession, distribution, sale or manufacture of illegal drugs.

ABUSIVE CONDUCT POLICY

Abusive Conduct in General
The College does not condone abusive conduct in any form. Abusive conduct includes the following behaviors:

1. Physical abuse
2. Verbal abuse
3. Threats
4. Intimidation
5. Harassment, including sexual and discriminatory harassment
6. Coercion and/or other conduct that threatens or endangers the health or safety of any person

Morehouse College is committed to fostering an open and supportive community that promotes learning, teaching, and discovery. This commitment includes maintaining a safe and healthy educational and work environment free from sexual and gender-based harassment, and discrimination. Any form of sexual or gender-based harassment, discrimination, or sexual violence subverts the mission of the College and offends the integrity of the campus community. This includes acts or threats of violence and/or misconduct via email, text, and all social media platforms.

TITLE IX
The College's Sexual Misconduct Policy is designed to ensure a safe and non-discriminatory educational and work environment that meets the requirements of Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972. Sexual misconduct, as defined by the College's policy, can be committed by both men and women and can occur between same or different sexes. All students, faculty, staff and third parties are expected not only to treat one another with mutual respect but also to conduct themselves in a manner that does not infringe upon the rights of others.

All acts of sexual misconduct and harassment are prohibited by the College, including, but not limited to:

- Sexual Assault
- Domestic Violence
- Dating Violence
- Non-consensual Sexual Contact
- Non-consensual Sexual Intercourse
- Rape
- Sexual Violence
- Stalking
- Intimidation
- Sexual Exploitations
- Cyber-bullying
- Retaliation
- Quid Pro Quo

The College will provide educational and training programs regarding sexual and gender-based harassment while also promoting sexual violence and harassment prevention awareness. Also, it will provide support to members of the campus community who experience, encounter, and witness behavior that violates the Sexual Misconduct Policy and the College's Code of Conduct. The Title IX Coordinator is designated by the College to coordinate all compliance efforts with federal and state laws and oversee the investigation and resolution of complaints relating to sexual and gender-based harassment involving students.

A. Who and What is Covered Under Title IX

Applicability
This policy applies to all sexual and gender-based harassment and misconduct (as defined in the Morehouse College Sexual Misconduct Policy) committed or experienced by students, which occur in connection with all academic, educational, extracurricular, athletic, and other Morehouse College programs, whether the programs take place in College facilities, at a program sponsored by the College at another location, or elsewhere. NOTE: This policy includes any of the following behaviors:

i. Hostile Environment: Sexual Harassment is defined as unwelcome sexual advances, unwelcome requests for sexual favors, and other verbal, nonverbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature when the conduct is sufficiently severe or pervasive to deny or limit the victim's ability to participate in or benefit from Morehouse's educational programs or benefits by creating an intimidating or hostile environment.

ii. Quid Pro Quo: unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and other visual, verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature when submission to such conduct is made either explicitly or implicitly a term or condition of an individual's education, living environment, employment, or participation in a College-related activity or program.

iii. Threats/Intimidation of a Sexual Nature: conduct of a sexual nature, which reasonably would be expected to have the effect of threatening or intimidating the person at whom such conduct is directed.

Freedom of Expression

The College is committed to the principles of free inquiry and free expression. Vigorous discussion and debate are fundamental to the College. Title IX is neither intended to stifle teaching methods or freedom of expression, generally, nor will it be permitted to do so. However, sexual harassment is neither a legally protected expression nor the proper exercise of academic freedom. It compromises the integrity of the College, its tradition of intellectual freedom, and the trust placed in its members.

Cyber-Bullying/Media-Based Misconduct

This means photographing or taping someone (via audio, video or otherwise) involved in sexual activity, or in a state of undress, without his or her knowledge or consent. Even if a person consented to sexual activity, photographing or taping someone without his or her knowledge and agreement goes beyond the boundaries of that consent. Dissemination of photographs or video/audio of someone involved in sexual activity, or in a state of undress, without his or her knowledge or consent, constitutes a separate and additional act of sexual misconduct.” Cyber-bullying also refers to the use of electronic technologies to facilitate deliberate and repeated harassment or threats to an individual or group.

Sexual Harassment

Includes any of the following behaviors:

- Threats/Intimidation of a Sexual Nature: conduct of a sexual nature, which reasonably would be expected to have the effect of threatening or intimidating the person at whom such conduct is directed.

Reporting

Reports of sexual misconduct are taken seriously and will be dealt with promptly. The specific action taken in any case depends on the nature and gravity of the conduct reported. The College may also implement interim measures, which are temporary protections or conditions placed upon a Complainant or Responding Party to address immediate physical safety and emotional needs following any allegation of violation of the Sexual Misconduct Policy. These interim measures may include no-contact orders, class reassignment, and/or residence hall/room reassignment.

If sexual harassment and/or misconduct has occurred, whether on- or off-campus, the College will act to stop the conduct, prevent its recurrence, and discipline and/or take appropriate action against those responsible. The College will not attempt to resolve a sexual harassment complaint informally such as through a conference with the parties or mediation.

Once the complaint is received, the Title IX Coordinator is required to provide: (1) a written explanation of your rights and options including your right to notify law enforcement and to be assisted by campus authorities in doing so, (2) an explanation of your rights to obtain no-contact orders or to enforce an order already in existence, and (3) contact information for campus and local advocacy, counseling, health, mental health and legal assistance services. You will also be provided with detailed written procedures that you should follow if a sex offense occurs, including who to contact and information about the importance of preserving physical evidence.

All allegations of sexual harassment and/or sexual misconduct will be resolved by the Title IX Coordinator pursuant to the College’s Sexual Misconduct Procedure.

Questions or complaints about sexual misconduct should be directed to the Title IX Coordinator:

- Cassandra Tarver-Ross, PHR, SHRM-CP
  - Associate Vice President of Human Resources and Ethics & Compliance
  - Location: Gloster Hall, Room 100
  - O: 470-639-0514
  - cassandra.ross@morehouse.edu

Sexual Harassment and/or Sexual Misconduct by Third Parties:

The College prohibits sexual harassment by third parties toward members of the College community when the third party has been brought into contact with the student through a College program or activity. Although individuals who are not students or employees of the College are not subject to discipline under the College’s internal processes, the College will take prompt, corrective action to eliminate sexual harassment and prevent its recurrence in those circumstances. If a student believes that he has been subject to sexual misconduct in a College program or activity by an individual who is not a College student or employee, the individual should report the alleged harassment or misconduct to the Title IX Coordinator and the Administrator responsible for that program or activity.

Complaints Involving Faculty and Staff
Morehouse College students are graded, supervised and selected for various academic and extracurricular opportunities by employees of the College during their educational experiences. If a student is subject to sexual harassment or sexual misconduct by a faculty or staff member, the student should report the alleged harassment and/or misconduct to Title IX Coordinator. The faculty or staff member shall be subject to the investigation authority of the Title IX Coordinator. Nothing shall prevent the Title IX Coordinator from conducting a prompt and thorough investigation into allegations in conjunction with the Office of Human Resources. The College will take prompt action to resolve the situation and make reasonable efforts to prevent any continued harassment.

Retaliation
The College prohibits retaliation against persons who complain about alleged sexual harassment and sexual misconduct and/or cooperate, testify, or participate in any manner in an investigation or proceeding of reported misconduct. Retaliation includes engaging in conduct that may reasonably be perceived to adversely affect a person’s educational, living, or work environment because of their good faith participation in the reporting, investigation, and/or resolution of report of a violation of the Sexual Misconduct Policy; or discourage a reasonable person from making a report or participating in an investigation under the Sexual Misconduct Policy.

Sanctions
Individuals who violate this policy are subject to discipline up to and including expulsion, suspension, and/or other appropriate sanctions or actions.

False Reporting
Intentionally making a false report or providing false information may be grounds for sanctions and discipline under the Student Code of Conduct.

B. Consent Policy
Consent is Key
Morehouse College encourages all students to engage in healthy relationships built upon open dialog and mutual respect. Safe and healthy relationships are not left to assumptions or based on prior interactions. Affirmative consent from both parties is required prior to engaging in all sexual activities. Either person can withdraw consent at any time.

Consent
Consent is defined as a clear and unambiguous agreement, expressed in mutually understandable words or actions, to engage in a particular sexual activity. Whether valid consent has been given will be judged based upon what a reasonable person would have understood from such words or actions. Consent must be voluntarily given and is not valid if: obtained by physical force, coercion, or threat; when a person is incapacitated; when an intellectual or other disability prevents a person from having the capacity to give consent; or if consent is given for a particular sexual activity on a prior occasion. It cannot be presumed to constitute consent to engage in a different sexual activity or to engage again in the same sexual activity.

C. Sharing of Information
Privacy
The College is committed to protecting the privacy of all individuals relating to any complaint of sexual misconduct. Information related to a report of misconduct will only be shared with a limited circle of individuals with a legitimate educational interest or with external individuals or entities only on a need-to-know basis. The use of this information is restricted to those College employees who "need to know" to assist in the active review, investigation, or resolution of the report. While not bound by confidentiality, these individuals will be discreet and respect the privacy of all individuals involved in the process.

Confidential Employees
A Confidential Employee is an individual who is required to protect personal identification information. These employees cannot share identifying information without the express consent of the person providing the information. Those campus officials and external individuals include medical providers, mental health providers, ordained clergy, and rape crisis counselors, all of whom have legally protected confidentiality. These individuals are prohibited from breaking confidentiality unless there is an imminent threat of harm to self or others.

Responsible Employee
A Responsible Employee is someone who has the authority or who a student responsibly believes has the authority/duty to act to redress sexual harassment and/or misconduct. Responsible employees are required to report all known details of a known or suspected incident of misconduct, including the names of all involved parties to the Title IX Coordinator, regardless of how slight the incident may seem. All faculty members, administrators, and staff at Morehouse College are Responsible Employees.
D. Sexual Assault Awareness and Prevention Training

Training, Education, and Prevention
All students are required and mandated to participate in on-going campus sexual assault awareness and prevention training including online surveys and courses, small group sessions, and assignments.

a. Student Leaders
   All Student Leaders (e.g., SGA, RA, Orientation Leaders, etc.) are required to complete the online AlcoholEdu and Sexual Assault Prevention for Undergraduates courses at the beginning of each school year.

b. New and Incoming Students
   Sexual assault awareness and prevention training are conducted as a part of New Student Orientation at the beginning of each academic year. Incoming students are required to complete the online AlcoholEdu and Sexual Assault Prevention for Undergraduates courses before their arrival for New Student Orientation.

Title IX investigations will not wait until the criminal justice system has run its course or for the conclusion of a criminal investigation. In fact, to do so violates the “promptness” mandate of Title IX, if the College declines to act because it is awaiting either the completion of a criminal investigation or prosecutorial decision as to whether charges will be filed and/or a final judgment made by a judge or jury.
F. Direct Communication
An individual may act on concerns about sexual harassment directly, by addressing the other party in person, or writing a letter describing the unwelcome behavior and its effect and stating that the behavior must stop. The Title IX Office can help the individual plan what to say or write, and likewise can counsel persons who receive such communications.

G. Sexual Harassment and Sexual Violence Harassment by Third Parties
The College prohibits sexual harassment by third parties toward members of the College community when the third party has been brought into contact with the student or employee through a College program or activity. Although individuals who are not students or employees of the College are not subject to discipline under the College’s internal processes, the College will take prompt, corrective action to eliminate sexual harassment and prevent its recurrence in those circumstances.

If a student or an employee believes that he or she has been sexually harassed in a College program or activity by an individual who is not a College student or employee, the individual should report the alleged harassment or act of violence to the Title IX Office and the Administrator responsible for that program or activity.

I. Filing a Formal Complaint
- The applicable procedure depends on the circumstances and the status of the person bringing the charge and the person against whom the charge is brought. Generally the Complainant should provide a written statement of the incident underlying the complaint as soon as possible after the alleged sexual harassment occurs. The College can only take corrective action when it becomes aware of problems. Therefore, students and employees who believe that they have experienced sexual harassment or sexual violence, are encouraged to come forward with their complaint and seek assistance within the College. Likewise, students and employees who believe that they have witnessed sexual harassment are encouraged to report the alleged harassment or violence promptly.

- The Complainant may also provide pertinent records and documentation. Information that is helpful to an inquiry and resolution of the complaint includes:
  - Date, Time, Name, Email, Address and Phone Number of the Complainant
  - Complainant’s title or program/year of study (student)
  - Complainant’s department, division or business unit (employee)
  - Complainant's role in the incident, e.g., target of alleged sexual harassment/violence, witness, friend
  - Name of the alleged harasser (“Respondent”)
  - Respondent’s title or program/year of study (student)
  - Respondent’s department, division or business unit (employee)
  - Relationship between the Respondent and the Complainant
  - Address where the alleged sexual harassment/sexual violence occurred
  - Date and time when the alleged sexual harassment/sexual violence occurred
  - A description of the alleged sexual harassment/sexual violence conduct, such as sexually degrading comments or gestures, inappropriate touching or sexual contact without consent, including sexual intercourse
  - Other circumstances which contributed to the incident, e.g., physical disability, alcohol
  - Other incidents of hostile conduct by the Respondent, if any
  - Other(s) involved in the incident as possible Complainant(s), witness(es) or additional Respondent(s)
  - What action by the College does the Complainant seek in response to the harassing conduct?
  - Has the Complainant made a report to others, e.g., local or Campus Police, faculty, students, or others?
  - Has the Complainant requested partial or complete confidentiality?

- The College must make a prompt, thorough and impartial inquiry, regardless of whether the Complainant makes a formal report, desires an inquiry, or requests that no inquiry be made.

- A request for confidentiality may limit the College’s ability to respond to the complaint. The College will take reasonable steps to investigate and respond to the complaint consistent with the Complainant’s requests, as long as doing so does not prevent the College from responding effectively to a hostile environment and preventing hostile behavior that may be directed toward others.

J. Grievances and Appeals
The applicable procedure depends on the circumstances and the status of the person bringing the charge and the person against whom the charge is brought. A grievance or appeal should be initiated following the completion of the investigation by the Title IX Office, a decision in the case, and any appeals. Proceedings are conducted by officials trained on sexual assault and other intimate partner violence issues, and will use the preponderance of the evidence standard (which is "more likely than not" and the standard used by civil courts in the United States). In addition, both Complainant and Respondent will be informed in writing of the final results within one business day of such outcome being reached.

K. Procedural Matters

1. Investigations
All complaints of alleged sexual harassment are investigated under the oversight of the Title IX Coordinator. The College will process all formal complaints it receives, regardless of where the conduct occurred, which is the basis for the complaint. The Title IX Coordinator may also determine that an investigation is warranted without a formal complaint if the College has sufficient notice that sexual harassment may have occurred.

An investigator will be appointed, as expeditiously as possible but within five calendar days, to investigate the complaint. The investigation will be conducted in such a way that respects the privacy of all persons involved to the reasonable extent possible, bearing in mind the safety of the campus community. External Title IX professional investigators may be asked to conduct or to assist in the investigation. The results of the investigation may be used in the third-party intervention process or in a grievance or disciplinary action.

Title IX investigations will not wait until the criminal justice system has run its course or for the conclusion of a criminal investigation. In fact, to do so is in violation of Title IX’s “promptness” mandate if the College declines to act because it is awaiting either the completion of a criminal investigation or prosecutorial decision as to whether charges will be filed and/or a final judgment by a judge or jury.

Pursuant to federal regulations, Title IX complaints, unlike criminal investigations, have no limits on how long it may take to conduct an investigation. Although there is no fixed period of time on how long an institution can take to conduct an investigation and finally resolve it, the College will resolve all complaints and issue a final resolution within a 60-day timeframe. More complex cases, such as those involving multiple incidents, may take longer. In short, "promptness" means prompt as to the final resolution, including all grievance proceedings (if any) and post-decision appeals, rehearings and requests for reconsideration.

The College will take any interim action, such as a no-contact order or interim suspension of the accused, needed to protect the alleged victim and the rest of the campus community.

Allegations falling under other policies and procedures, such as those relevant to student employment complaints, will be referred to the appropriate administrator for resolution.

In all circumstances, the Title IX Coordinator will conduct a Preliminary Review of the complaint and either proceed with the investigation or conclude the complaint process due to (a) insufficient information to support a finding of sexual harassment or sexual violence by a preponderance of the evidence or (b) finding that the complaint involves matters which are beyond the scope of applicable College sexual harassment policies.

At any time, the Title IX Coordinator may implement, or recommend to appropriate College administrators, measures to prevent a sexually discriminatory environment and prevent sexual harassment that may be directed toward others.

Upon completion of the final investigative report, the Complainant, Respondent and other persons whose actions are the subject of the complaint will be informed, in writing, of the outcome of any disciplinary proceeding that arises from an allegation or complaint of sexual harassment, including domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, or stalking. They will also be informed of any change in the results before they become final, as well as when the results become final. The Complainant and Respondent may comment, in writing, on the report as required under Title IX regulations. Such comments will be made a part of the investigative record.

2. Recordkeeping
The Title IX Office will maintain and track all reports of sexual harassment and report, at least annually, concerning their number, nature and disposition to the President and administration. The Title IX Office will keep confidential records of reports of sexual harassment and the actions taken in response to those reports, and use them for potential legal purposes and to identify individuals or departments likely to benefit from training so that training priorities can be established. All records regarding sexual harassment complaint investigations will be maintained for at least three years.

3. Retaliation
The College does not tolerate nor condone any form of retaliation against any Complainant or against any other person who participates in an inquiry or investigation of a complaint under this procedure.
L. Exceptions
This policy does not supersede policies and procedures addressing issues specifically governed by other College policies, such as grade appeals and school dismissal appeals, disability and reasonable accommodation complaints.

Students and employees are expected to present such complaints in accordance with the applicable College policy and procedure.

M. Complaints Involving Faculty and Staff
Many College students will be supervised by employees of the College during their educational experiences. If a student is aggrieved by sexual harassment or sexual violence in such a setting, the student should report the incident to the Title IX Coordinator who will then investigate the complaint. Morehouse College takes all claims of sexual misconduct made by students, faculty, or staff, seriously. All cases reported to the Office of Title IX are thoroughly investigated. Morehouse College’s Sexual Misconduct Policy and Procedures provide for disciplinary action, including dismissal, if any student, faculty, or staff member engages in inappropriate behavior.

CYBER-BULLYING, CYBER-HARASSMENT & CYBER-STALKING
Colleges and universities have developed policies that prohibit electronic forms of communication that are a form of stalking and/or harassment. Below are some commonly used definitions for electronic communication about behaviors that are considered to be disruptive to the Morehouse College community.

Cyber-Harassment
• Cyber-Harassment differs from Cyber-Stalking in that it does not generally involve a credible threat. Cyber-Harassment usually refers to threatening or harassing someone via email messages, instant messages, blogs, or other electronic communications technologies that are designed to torment another person.

• Cyber-Bullying and Cyber-Harassment are used interchangeably. Cyber-Bullying refers to the use of electronic technologies to facilitate deliberate and repeated harassment or threats to an individual or group.

• Cyber-Stalking is the use of the internet, email or the electronic communication to stalk another person. It involves a pattern of threatening or malicious behaviors. Cyber-Stalking is considered the most dangerous form of harassment, stalking, and/or Cyber-Bullying.

Federal Violations
Cyber-Stalking, Cyber-Bullying, and Cyber-Harassment are violations of federal and state laws such as Title IV of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972.

Examples of Cyber-Bullying
Any type of harassment or behavior intended to disturb or upset another person that is intentional, done repeatedly, and found to be threatening or disturbing.

• Teasing

• Making fun of someone
• Mean and/or rude comments

MOREHOUSE COLLEGE ANTI-HAZING POLICY

Morehouse College strictly prohibits any individual student or students, groups of students, or any student organization(s) affiliated with or otherwise associated with Morehouse College (each of the aforementioned groups, a “Morehouse College Student Organization”) from hazing any student or engaging in any hazing activity in any way.

For purposes of this Policy, “hazing” is defined to include, but is not limited to:

1. any conduct involving pressuring or coercing a student into violating federal, state, and/or local law(s) or the Morehouse College Student Code of Conduct;
2. any conduct involving brutality of a physical nature, including, but not limited to, paddling, whipping, beating, pushing, shoving, tackling, branding, prolonged exposure to the elements, forced calisthenics, or the forced consumption of food, liquor, drugs, or any other substance (whether legal or illegal), as well as other forced physical activities that may adversely affect the physical and mental health or safety of the student; and
3. any conduct that may adversely affect a student’s mental health or dignity, including, but not limited to, sleep deprivation, forced exclusion from social contact with other individuals, servitude of any kind, and any forced conduct that would be considered demeaning or degrading, or result in extreme embarrassment.

For the purposes of this Policy, any activity described herein or any other activity that recklessly or intentionally endangers the physical or mental health of a Morehouse College student for purposes of initiation, admission into, continued membership, or affiliation with a Morehouse College Student Organization will be presumed automatically to constitute prohibited “hazing” and a forced activity, the willingness of the Morehouse College student to participate notwithstanding.

Drug-Free Schools And Campuses Policy

Introduction
It is the policy of Morehouse College (“the College”) to comply with the Drug-Free Schools and Campuses Regulations of 1990. The regulations require schools, colleges, and universities to implement and enforce firm drug and alcohol prevention programs and policies as a condition of eligibility to receive federal financial assistance.

Compliance with the Drug-Free Schools and Campuses regulations requires an institution of higher education (IHE) to provide written certification that it has adopted and implemented a program to prevent the unlawful possession, use, or distribution of illicit drugs and alcohol abuse by students, faculty, and staff. A separate Drug-free Workplace Policy has been issued to faculty and staff.

In keeping with the College’s efforts to maintain a healthy work environment, it is expected of all employees and students to demonstrate behavior that enhances a positive work environment including a drug-free campus. Alcohol abuse or the use of illegal drugs is incompatible with the educational mission of Morehouse. The illegal use or abuse of drugs and/or alcohol has a clear and adverse effect on the educational environment.

Drug-Free Workplace and Campus Policy
The College has adopted and implemented a drug and alcohol prevention program that includes the following components:

The annual distribution, in writing, to each student who is taking one or more classes for any type of academic credit except for continuing education units, regardless of the length of the student’s program of study, of:

• Standards of conduct that clearly prohibit, at a minimum, the unlawful possession, use or distribution of illegal drugs and alcohol by students on College property, or as a part of any of its activities.
• A description of the applicable legal sanctions under local, state, or federal law for the unlawful possession or distribution of illegal drugs and alcohol.
• A description of the health risks associated with the use of illegal drugs and the abuse of alcohol.
• A description of any drug or alcohol counseling, treatment, rehabilitation, or reentry programs that are available to students.
• A clear statement that the College will impose disciplinary sanctions on students (consistent with local, state, and federal law); and a description of those sanctions, up to and including expulsion, or termination of employment and referral for prosecution, for violations of the standards of conduct. A disciplinary sanction may include the completion of an appropriate rehabilitation program.

The College Policy prohibits the following:
• The use, possession, manufacture, distribution, or sale of illegal drugs, controlled substances, or drug paraphernalia on College premises, in College supplied vehicles, or at any official function or College activity.
• The use, possession, manufacture, distribution, or sale of alcoholic beverages on College premises, in College-supplied vehicles, or at any official function or College activity.
• Being under the influence of an authorized controlled substance, illegal drug or alcohol on College premises, in College-supplied vehicles, or at any official function or College activity.
• The use of alcoholic beverages or drugs that adversely affect a student’s academic performance, that is a threat to individual safety on the part of students, or that adversely affects the College’s reputation in the public arena on the part of students.

Sanctions for Violations of the Alcohol and Drug Policy
A College student who violates the College’s drug and alcohol Policy will be subject to sanctions set forth in the Student Code of Conduct. All violations are handled on an individual basis.

The College does not tolerate the misuse or abuse of illegal drugs or alcohol. The Student Conduct Administrator or designee and/or the College Judicial Committee will determine the nature of the sanctions against students who violate this policy. Disciplinary action includes, but is not limited to, warnings, probation, suspensions and expulsions or referral for prosecution and/or for the completion of a substance abuse assistance or rehabilitation program specified by Morehouse at the expense of the student. Specific sanctions include but are not limited to:

• Automatic suspension from the College for first-time violators of the policy on possession, distribution, sale or manufacture of illegal drugs;
• Automatic disciplinary probation for first-time violators of the policy on the possession and/or consumption of alcohol;
• Permanent expulsion from the College for second-time violators of the Policy on possession, distribution, sale or manufacture of an illegal drug;
• Suspension from the College for second-time violators of the Policy on the possession and/or consumption of alcohol;
• Permanent expulsion from the College for third-time violators of the Policy on the possession and/or consumption of alcohol.
Students who are expelled or suspended (for any length of time) should be aware that this action may impact the following:

- Tuition, Residence Hall costs, and fees (suspension does not forgive financial obligations)
- Student Financial Aid, including the Hope Scholarship
- Athletic participation and eligibility
- Health insurance (contact your personal health-care provider)
- College housing
- Meal plan
- Use of College resources and access to College facilities
- Immigration status for international students
- Veterans and dependents of veterans
- Internships, assistantships, and study abroad

Student Organizations/Athletes

Student organizations in violation of the College’s policy on drugs and alcohol will be subject to disciplinary action up to and including educational sanctions, suspension and/or revocation of their registration, and/or referral to the appropriate federal, state, or local authorities for prosecution in the courts.

When there is an alcohol or drug infraction, in addition to any criminal prosecution or College judicial code sanction, a student who is a member of any of the College’s athletic teams may face additional sanctions based on rules established by the team and/or the NCAA Compliance Officer.

Summary of Legal Sanctions Covering Alcohol and Drugs

Local, state, and federal laws make illegal use of drugs and alcohol serious crimes. Convictions can lead to imprisonment, fines, and assigned community service. Courts do not reduce prison sentences in order for convicted persons to attend school or continue their jobs. A felony conviction for such an offense can prevent an individual from entering many fields of employment or professions.

Federal law penalizes the manufacture, distribution, possession with intent to manufacture or distribute, and simple possession of drugs (“controlled substances”).

Drug and Alcohol Abuse Programs
The College has an established substance abuse educational program that includes educational counseling through its Counseling Resource Center. The College may require, as part of disciplinary action, that the student receive treatment by a designated professional, and he may be referred to an appropriate organization for further assistance. Failure to comply with Morehouse’s requirements is justification for immediate dismissal from the College and/or lesser sanctions.
Health Risks and the Effects of Alcohol
Alcohol consumption causes a number of marked changes in behavior. Even low doses of it significantly impair the judgment and coordination required to drive a car safely, increasing the likelihood that the driver will be involved in an accident. Low to moderate doses of alcohol also increase the incidence of a variety of aggressive acts, including spouse and child abuse. Moderate to high doses of alcohol cause marked impairment in higher mental functions, severely altering a person's ability to learn and remember information. Very high doses cause respiratory depression and death. If combined with other depressants of the central nervous system, much lower doses of alcohol will produce the effects just described. Repeated use of alcohol can lead to dependence. Sudden cessation of alcohol intake is likely to produce withdrawal symptoms, including severe anxiety, tremors, hallucinations, and convulsions. Alcohol withdrawal can be life-threatening. Long-term consumption of large quantities of alcohol, particularly when combined with poor nutrition, can also lead to permanent damage to vital organs, such as the brain and liver.

Mothers who drink alcohol during pregnancy may give birth to infants with fetal alcohol syndrome. These infants can have irreversible physical abnormalities and mental retardation. In addition, research indicates that children of alcoholic parents are at greater risk than other youngsters of becoming alcoholics.

Local Alcohol and Drug Resources
The College recognizes that alcohol and drug abuse and addiction are treatable illnesses. We also recognize that early intervention and support improves the success of rehabilitation. We encourage students to seek professional help for their drug or alcohol problems. Listed below are referral resources.

Also, maintain evidence of harassing, threatening, and intimidating behaviors, and, if possible, be able to identify and/or name the student(s) you believe to be responsible for inappropriate acts.

It is important that you also establish a timeline of when the behavior began, up to the point you file an incident report. Take a minute to document the behaviors. Be specific as to when the behaviors started and document all occurrences, no matter how minor you think they might be.

Student Conduct Violations Online
The Department of Student Advocacy and Accountability and the Dean of the College will work with Housing and Residential Education, Morehouse Information, and Campus Police to conduct a thorough review of all alleged incidents of harassment, bullying, threatening, and intimidating behaviors online. A conduct hearing may be held in cases that demonstrate a violation of Community Standards and/or our Code of Conduct. The possible consequences for an online violation of the Morehouse Community Standards and Code of Conduct may include suspension and/or expulsion from the College. A person may also be subject to criminal penalties.

If a student is charged only with an off-campus violation of federal, state, or local laws, but not with any other violation of this Code, disciplinary action may be taken and sanctions imposed for conduct that has an adverse impact on the College community. The College’s disciplinary proceedings may be instituted against a student charged with conduct that potentially violates both criminal law and the Student Code (that is, both possible violations resulting from the same factual situation) without regard to the pendency of civil or criminal litigation in court or criminal arrest and prosecution. Proceedings under this Student Code may be carried out prior to, simultaneously with, or following civil or criminal proceedings off-campus at the discretion of the Senior Student Affairs Officer and Dean of the College and Associate Vice President for Student Services and Dean of the College. Determinations made or sanctions imposed under the Student Code shall not be subject to change.

Student Conduct Policies

A. Violations and Hearings
1. Any member of the College community may file a student conduct violation against any student for violations of the Student Code. Allegations of Student Code violations shall be prepared in writing and directed to the Director of Student Advocacy and Accountability and the Dean of the College or a designee responsible for the administration of the College system. Any violation should be submitted as soon as possible after the event takes place, and factual information shall be supplied to support the alleged violation of the Student Code, preferably within five days.

2. The Director of Student Advocacy and Accountability and the Dean of the College or designee may conduct an investigation to determine if the (violation) charges have merit and/or if they can be disposed of administratively by mutual consent of the parties involved on a basis acceptable to Director of Student Advocacy and Accountability and the Dean of the College. Such disposition shall be final, and there will be no subsequent proceedings. If any student conduct violations are not admitted to and/or cannot be disposed of by mutual consent, the Director of Student Advocacy and Accountability and the Dean of the College may later serve in the same matter as the HCRB and CJC or a member thereof. If the student admits violating institutional rules, but sanctions are not agreed to, subsequent process, including a hearing, if necessary, shall be limited to determining the appropriate sanctions.

3. Hearings normally will be conducted in private, and the admission of others is subject to the discretion of the chairperson. With the written consent of the students involved and approval from the Director of Student Advocacy and Accountability and the Dean of the College, a representative of the student media may be admitted, but shall not have the privilege of participating in the hearing.

4. The hearing shall be conducted by the College Judiciary Committee, Honor Conduct Review Board, or the Director of Student Advocacy and Accountability and the Dean of the College. The HCRB and CJC determination shall be based on whether it is a preponderance of information that the accused student violated the Student Code.

5. All student conduct violations shall be presented to the accused student in written form, hand-delivered, mailed, and/or sent by electronic notification from the Director of Student Advocacy and Accountability and the Dean of the College.

6. In hearings involving more than one accused student, the chairperson of the CJC or Chief Justice, in his or her discretion, may permit the hearings to be conducted separately.
7. The Complainant and the accused student have the right to be assisted by an advisor they choose; however, the advisor must be a member of the College community and cannot be an attorney or parent. The complainant and/or the accused student is responsible for presenting his or her own information and, therefore, advisors are not permitted to speak or to participate directly in any hearing before an HCRB or CJC. A student should select as an advisor a person whose schedule allows attendance at the scheduled date and time for the Student Conduct hearing because delays will not normally be allowed due to the scheduling conflicts of an advisor.

8. The Complainant, the accused student, and the HCRB and/or CJC may arrange for witnesses who are identified by the Complainant and/or accused student at least two weekdays prior to the hearing. Witnesses will provide information and answer questions from the HCRB and CJC. Questions may be asked by the accused student and/or Complainant to be answered by each other and by other witnesses. This will be conducted by the HCRB and/or CJC with such questions directed to the chairperson, rather than directly to the witness. This method is used to preserve the educational tone of the hearing and to avoid the creations of an adversarial environment. Questions about whether potential information will be received shall be resolved in the discretion of the chairperson of the HCRB and/or CJC.

9. Pertinent records, exhibits, and written statements may be accepted as information for consideration by the HCRB and/or CJC at the discretion of the chairperson or Chief Justice.

10. All procedural questions are subject to the final decision of the chairperson of the CJC or HCRB.

11. Formal rules of process, procedure, and/or technical rules of information, such as those applied to criminal or civil courts, are not used in Student Code proceedings.

12. After the hearing, the HCRB and/or CJC shall determine whether the student has violated the conduct code.

There shall be a single, verbatim record, such as a tape recording, of all hearings before an HCRB and/or CJC. The record shall be the property of the College. If a student fails to obey the summons of a College official, the student shall forfeit his opportunity to bring forth information and/or testimony.

B. Alternate Dispute Resolution

Upon mutual request of the accused student and the accuser, and with the consent of the Director of Student Advocacy and Accountability and the Dean of the College, alternative dispute resolution, including negotiated settlements between the parties, mediation, or similar forums may be scheduled in lieu of formal conduct hearings.

C. Sanctions

The primary purpose of sanctions in this code is to protect the College community from: behavior that is disruptive, threatening or dangerous to others; acts that are lewd, indecent, and obscene; or conduct that impairs the primary function of the College to educate students. Sanctions under the Student Code of Conduct may be tailored to suit the circumstances of each offense. In cases where alcohol and/or drug usage are known or where the accused student exhibits extreme violent or abusive behavior, the sanction imposed may be suspended pending drug and alcohol abuse assessment and counseling, or participation in anger management classes. The sanctions that may be imposed as a result of disciplinary proceedings include, but are not limited to, warnings, disciplinary probation, suspension, and dismissal.

1. The following sanctions may be imposed upon any student found to have violated the Student Code:

   a. WARNING: A notice in writing to the student that he is violating or has violated institutional regulations.

   b. PROBATION: A written reprimand for violation of specified regulations. Probation is for a designated period of time and includes the probability of more severe disciplinary sanctions if the student is found to be violating any institutional regulation(s) during the probationary period. Students on disciplinary probation are not allowed to:
      1. represent the College or their classes;
      2. take part in extracurricular activities involving events before or as a representative of the College community;
      3. participate in the selection/induction program of a fraternity or participate in any fraternity activities;
      4. occupy any position in a club or organization or serve on a College committee or board;
      5. attend or participate in any social club or organization affairs, functions, or activities; and
      6. participate in any College program abroad

   c. DISCRETIONARY SANCTIONS: Students may be required to perform mandatory service (a specific number of hours within a specific time period) for an on-campus department, division, and faculty or staff member. This sanction may be imposed in conjunction with other sanctions.

d. RESTITUTION: Student may be required to provide compensation for loss, damage, or injury. This may take the form of appropriate service and/or monetary or material replacement.

e. REFERRAL TO COUNSELING: In cases where students being disciplined manifest behaviors and/or attitudes that inhibit their ability to function effectively as members of the College community, they may be referred to counseling services available at the College.

f. RESIDENCE HALL SUSPENSION: Separation of the student from the residence halls for a definite period of time, after which the student is eligible to return. Conditions for re-admission may be specified.

g. RESIDENCE HALL EXPULSION: Permanent separation of the student from the residence halls.

h. INTERIM SUSPENSION: Temporary separation of a student from the campus when the Senior Student Affairs Officer and Dean of the College and/or Director of Student Advocacy and Accountability and the Dean of the College believes such separation is necessary, or from a classroom when requested by a faculty member.

i. COLLEGE SUSPENSION: Separation of the student from the College for a definite period of time, after which the student is eligible to return. Students who are suspended must leave the campus within 48 hours of suspension. Conditions for re-admission may be specified at the discretion of the Director of Student Advocacy and Accountability and the Dean of the College.

j. COLLEGE EXPULSION: Separation of the student from the College. Dismissal constitutes a student’s involuntary separation from the College with no recourse to return. Dismissal, generally, is used for very serious infractions, which include, but are not limited to: violations of the College policy on drugs, such as: the illegal manufacture, sale, delivery, or possession with the intent to manufacture, sell or deliver any controlled substance and alcohol; physical altercations or abuse; theft; fraud; forgery; possession of a firearm or any weapon of mass destruction; and violations of other criminal laws. As a result of this sanction, the Campus Police will pursue a criminal trespass warrant against any students who have been expelled, which prevents them from coming on to the College campus.

k. REVOCATION OF ADMISSION OR DEGREE: Admission to, or a degree awarded from, the College may be revoked for fraud, misrepresentation, or other violations of College standards in obtaining the degree, or for other serious violations committed by the student prior to graduation.

l. WITHHOLDING DEGREE: The College may withhold awarding a degree otherwise earned until the completion of the process as set forth in the Student Conduct Code of Conduct, including the completion of all sanctions imposed, if any.

1. More than one of the sanctions listed above may be imposed for any single violation.

2. Other than College expulsion, revocation, or the withholding of a degree, disciplinary sanctions shall not be made part of the student’s permanent academic record, but shall become part of the student’s disciplinary record. Upon graduation, the student’s disciplinary record may be expunged of disciplinary actions, after the student appeals by application to the Director of Student Advocacy and Accountability and the Dean of the College. Otherwise, cases involving the imposition of sanctions, College suspension, College expulsion or revocation, or withholding of a degree shall be expunged from the student’s disciplinary record seven years after final disposition of the case.

map approved or revised under this subsection or a true copy of such original map shall be filed with the municipality or county and shall be maintained as an official record of the municipality or county.
This subsection shall not preclude the prosecution from introducing or relying upon any other evidence or testimony to establish any element of this offense. FAQS ON DISCIPLINARY SYSTEM AND HEARING PROCEDURES

What is the relationship among the AUC institutions regarding disciplinary rules?
As a member of the Atlanta University Center, the College has a reciprocal agreement with other AUC schools regarding student behavior and discipline. If a Morehouse student is accused of misconduct on one of the other AUC campuses, the College reserves the right to handle the case as if it occurred at the College.

Will I have a fair hearing, and will I be given an opportunity to present information on my behalf?
Students will have a fair opportunity to explain their position and present information and witnesses on their behalf. Parents and lawyers are not permitted to attend the hearing or address the Assistant Dean of the College for Student Conduct, College Judiciary Committee or HCRB, or question witnesses while the hearing is in session.

Houses
The 12 residential halls (houses) at Morehouse College vary in capacity from 40 to 360 residents. Generally, the houses are categorized as being for freshmen or returning students. There are also special themes associated with each residences hall. Each house is managed by a Community Director or Associate Director, who will be responsible for managing the student staff, consisting of Lead Residential Advisors (Leads) and Residential Advisors (RAs), who will have direct day-to-day contact with students.

Residential Life Staff
The staff of each house consists of the following:

- Associate Director of Residential Education – a live-in professional who supervises the professional staff and supports students through programming and intervention services.
- Community Director – a live-in professional who supervises the student staff and supports students through programming and intervention services
- Lead Residential Advisor (Lead) – an upperclassman who leads the residential staff in the house in house programmatic and operational efforts
- Residential Advisor (RA) – an upperclassman who serves as a peer mentor and assists students with their concerns.

The house staff works to create and promote an environment that supports respect, integrity, civility, accountability, and compassion among all residents. They also work with the day-to-day administrative duties, provide leadership in the houses, and conduct educational, cultural, social, personal, and career development programs for the residents.
Housing Accommodations

Three-year Live-on Requirement
The three-year live-on requirement is a commitment between the men of Morehouse and the Office of Housing & Residential Education to enhance the students’ experience and success. This commitment requires students to live on-campus and have a meal plan for three years (depending on the house and student classification).

Morehouse College believes that students who live on-campus are more likely to stay enrolled, graduate on time, and feel connected to the campus community. In support of this commitment, the Division of Student Development will focus time and energy on campus resources to ensure student success. Research shows that living on-campus has several positive outcomes that help students developmentally. Empirical research reveals six areas in which residence halls have a significant impact on students (Blimling, 2003):

- Retention: They have greater expectations for academic achievement and are more likely to remain in college.
- Co-curricular Involvement: Students are more involved in campus activities. They learn to work with others, manage budgets, express their ideas in meetings, negotiate with others, and follow through with projects.
- Personal Growth and Development: Students meet more challenges, mature more quickly and learn to become interdependent.
- Interpersonal Relationships: Students build strong friendships and share more experiences. They interact more, develop more tolerance, and experience more cultural diversity.
- Faculty Interaction: Students have more contacts with faculty, both in the residence halls and, due to close proximity to faculty offices.
- Positive Feelings about Campus Experiences: Students feel that the campus is more comfortable, more educationally purposeful, supportive, and more enjoyable, yielding higher overall satisfaction with their college experience.

The three-year live-on requirement is fulfilled by the following criteria:
If the student has completed three full years of attendance at Morehouse College or another accredited post-secondary institution before the houses open for fall semester. For example, a transfer student who has attended another accredited institution for at least three years and lived on-campus is exempt from the live-on requirement. Experience must be at an institution of higher education and does not include high school or boarding school experience. If the student is legally married or in a legal civil union, Morehouse requires a notarized copy of the official marriage or civil union documentation.

Students may petition to be released from the three-year live-on requirement and the housing contract based on the following criteria:
- Live at home with parents or legal guardians whose permanent home address is within 25 miles driving distance of campus.
- Medical Accommodation.
- Financial Duress.

To apply, the student must complete the exemption form located on the housing website.

Incoming freshmen
All freshmen are required to live in a house on the Morehouse College campus unless they are granted a waiver from the Associate Dean of the College for Residential Education and Director of Housing to live off-campus due to extenuating circumstances. New students accepted to the College will apply online via TigerDen—the web-based housing application portal—after confirmation of the college's acceptance fee. Students are responsible for adhering to the application and financial deadlines outlined by the Office of Admissions. House and roommate requests are honored as space permits. Assignments for the fall semester are made on a “first-paid” basis and made available in the housing portal throughout the summer. Please note that incoming freshmen will be able to rank their preferences, but a preference is not guaranteed. Visit the housing website to view the housing options for incoming freshmen.

Continuing Residential Students

Housing Application Process
Due to the limited number of housing units available for returning students who wish to live on campus, the Office of Housing and Residential Education implements a housing selection process each spring semester. The process is designed to provide continuing students with an equitable system for obtaining on-campus housing assignments during the upcoming academic year.

In order to participate in the housing selection process, students must complete and submit a housing application to the Department of Housing and Residential Education along with payment verification of the housing reservation fee (if applicable). Continuing students’ housing applications become available in mid to late spring.

Students living off-campus who wish to request on-campus housing for the next academic year must participate in the housing selection process listed above. No student can be considered for campus housing without submitting a housing application and remit the housing reservation fee (if applicable).

In order to complete the housing selection process and secure their room assignments, students must assure the financing of tuition for the fall and spring semesters. The Office of Business and Finance determines if payments are necessary and the amount of these payments. Note that these payments are separate from the housing reservation fee, and payments must be made in order to continue through the housing selection process.

Students’ room assignments are for the fall and spring semesters. Students will only be released from this obligation if they are no longer enrolled at Morehouse College and have completed the contract release form. Any additional exception must be granted by the Associate Dean of the College for Residential Education & Director of Housing prior to the end of the semester.

As space permits, house and roommate preferences will be granted to students who are selected into campus housing. Students with concerns about room assignments should contact the Department of Housing and Residential Education. Students with roommate problems should contact their respective RA and/or Professional Staff Member.

On-Campus Housing Application Checklist:

1. Complete and submit Housing Application via TigerDen — the web-based housing application portal.
2. Register for classes.
3. Remit housing reservation fee (if applicable).
4. Remit initial tuition, room and board, fees payment.
5. Remit final tuition, room and board, fees payment.
6. Check TigerDen Housing Portal website for room assignment.
7. Check-in: Be sure to bring approved items only.
8. Check-out: Be sure to clean up and return keys on time.

Summer Term Housing

Students must apply separately for summer term housing. Summer applications are available via TigerDen —the web-based housing application portal. Applications must be submitted by April 30. Students employed by the Summer Academy must apply through their designated program coordinator.

Withdrawal from the Residential Community

Any student who wishes to move out of campus housing for any reason (such as moving to off-campus housing or withdrawing from the College) must do the following:

- Complete and submit a Housing Contract Release Request Form to the Office of Housing and Residential Education.
- Remove all belongings from the assigned room upon approval of Housing Contract Release.
- Return the room key to the House staff.

Any assignment will be canceled, and financial reimbursement made if appropriate. Students who fail to vacate in accordance with this policy will be responsible for all applicable charges.

Community Standards

Quiet Hours

Noise should be maintained at a reasonable level at all times within the houses. All students are expected to be considerate of others who are studying or sleeping. During designated quiet hours, noise levels should not be loud enough to be heard outside students’ rooms. Regular quiet hours are:

- Sunday through Thursday: 10 p.m. – 8 a.m.
- Friday and Saturday: Midnight – 10 a.m.

All residents must observe quiet hours 24 hours per day during the Reading Period through the end of Finals Week.

Endangering Behavior

Students who participate in endangering behavior may be removed from their houses, fined, and be subject to disciplinary action and/or criminal charges.

Endangering behavior includes, but is not limited to the following:

- tampering with fire equipment
- blocking a fire escape
- failing to evacuate a building during a fire alarm
- defacing or tampering with safety signs or equipment
- using or possessing firearms, explosives, firecrackers, and other highly flammable materials
- removing windows or screens
- throwing objects out of windows
- using open flame devices such as candles, oil lanterns, and propane torches
- careless use of appliances and/or use of appliances that are prohibited
- tampering with wiring
- installing of partitions, paneling, or lofts
- careless use of any other material that may result in danger to the College community
- entering or exiting designated emergency exits
Fire Safety
Making false fire reports, tampering with firefighting equipment (including removing fire extinguishers from their proper stations or discharging them other than to put out fires), and interfering with firefighters are all criminal offenses. Fire doors that close should never be propped open, blocked or otherwise tampered with, nor should fire escapes be accessed for any purposes other than emergency evacuation. Repair and/or replacement costs will be assessed to students responsible for such acts or prorated among the occupants of a house. In addition, all responsible parties may be subject to disciplinary action, fines, and/or criminal charges.

Smoking Policy
Smoking is prohibited in the houses or within 15 feet of a hall. This policy is strictly enforced. Violators may be required to move off-campus immediately and may be denied on-campus privileges in the future. Also included in this policy is a strict prohibition of the following combustible items:
- Incense
- Candles
- Cigars
- Fireworks

Appliances
Television sets (if outside antenna or other exterior reception devices are not used), electric flat irons, small compact refrigerators, hair dryers and fans are permitted in houses. Microwave ovens, electric skillets, hot plates, coffee pots and all forms of cooking equipment are not allowed in individual student rooms.

Occupants of rooms where prohibited appliances are found may be subject to disciplinary action and/or a fine. Students with certain medical conditions may apply to the Director of Housing for permission to use special appliances in their rooms.

Maintenance
Any item in need of repair and or replacement should be brought to the attention of a House Staff person. The process/procedures for notifying an RA about repairs/replacement of house items will be disseminated during the first hall/floor meeting during the fall semester.

The College will not be liable for the loss of money or valuables or for damage to the property of any student who resides in campus housing.

Any incidents that result in the loss or damage to property should be reported to the Campus Police and the House Dean. Students are strongly encouraged to obtain renter’s insurance on their personal property or extend their parents’ homeowner’s coverage to include their property away from home.

Each student also shares responsibility for the overall condition of his room, house, and its furniture. Students will be held responsible and charged if any damages are made to the room, house, and/or its furniture beyond normal wear and tear.

The house staff makes monthly room checks to ascertain the condition of rooms. If at the end of a term a room is left in such condition that it requires more than routine cleaning, a fine will be assessed to each resident of the room.

Entry into Your Room
The College may permit authorized personnel to enter a student’s room under the following circumstances:
- for routine health and safety room inspections
- when repairs or maintenance are needed
- when there is a reason to believe the room is being used for illegal purposes
- when there is a reason to believe the occupant’s life or health is in danger
- when necessary to ensure that the College’s policies and procedures are followed

Custodial Services
Custodial services are provided to every house to keep the common living areas clean and keep buildings up to College standards. Residents are responsible for the general cleaning of their rooms and removing excessive trash from the common areas. Students are expected to keep their rooms reasonably clean and orderly so as not to endanger the health and safety of themselves or others. If, after appropriate warning, a student does not maintain his room in reasonable order, he may be required to vacate the room without a refund.

Damages
During check-in, students are required to complete a Room Condition Report (RCR) outlining any existing damages in their room. Residents are liable for any damage and/or loss to their room, or its furniture not reported on the RCR. Repair or replacement costs will be assessed to the individual or individuals responsible. In common areas or when this is not possible, costs can be prorated among the residents of a building, floor or wing. Students are encouraged to report any information regarding specific acts of vandalism to the Office of Housing and Residential Education.

Room Keys
Room keys are issued to each student assigned to a house room. During check-in, students will receive room keys from the house staff and must return keys to the house staff when the room is permanently vacated at the end of each semester. Students moving out before check-out must get approval from the house staff. Students who fail to return keys immediately in accordance with the established procedure will be charged a late departure fee. Students are responsible for locking their rooms whenever they are not present (i.e., going to the shower, laundry, or visiting another resident). Students should ALWAYS lock their room doors at night. New or additional locks may not be affixed to doors, and keys may not be duplicated. Lost keys should be reported immediately to the RA who will take appropriate actions to have the locks changed and new keys issued at the student’s expense.

Lockout Policy and Procedure

Residents are expected to maintain control of their house room key at all times. Students are not to give their room key to anyone and should have their key in their possession whenever they leave their room.

Residents must keep their keys with them at all times.

The Office of Housing and Residential Education cannot emphasize enough the importance of adhering to this policy. Lost room keys and lockouts are the most common issues faced by our residents. It is imperative that residents exercise responsibility for their personal property, fellow residents’ safety, and their college home.

House Deans have office hours from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily. There is an “Administrator on Duty” during after-hours to assist with emergencies. Should a student become locked out of his room, he should follow the procedure below:

- During standard business hours (9 a.m. to 5 p.m.), students are to contact their RA for assistance. If the RA is unavailable, students are to contact their Lead.
- During after-hours (5 p.m. to 3 a.m.), the student should contact the RA on-duty. If the RA on-duty is not available, then the student can call Campus Police, who will contact the Administrator on Duty.
- The RA on Duty assists with lockouts during the following scheduled times ONLY: 7 p.m., 9 p.m., 11 p.m., 1 a.m., and 3 a.m. Any residents locked out between these times must wait for the next scheduled lockout assistance time. Weekends hours (Sat.- Sun) are 9 a.m., 1 p.m., 5 p.m., 7 p.m., 11 p.m., 1 a.m. and 3 a.m.
- Lost keys must be replaced by the end of the next business day.
- Note: There will be no lockout assistance from 3 a.m. to 9 a.m.

Lockout Fees

Due to the significant costs and safety hazards that lost room keys cause the entire Morehouse College community, the Office of Housing and Residential Education strongly urges residents to make a conscious effort to secure their keys. Lack of responsibility with room keys will result in fines as follows:

- First incident: Lockout Standard Fee of $25.
- Second incident: Lockout Standard Fee of $50.
- Third incident: Lockout Standard Fee of $75.

More than three lockouts in any academic year will result in a hearing before the House Dean. Action may include additional fines, restrictions on co-curricular activity participation, and/or serious disciplinary action.

Laundry Service

Laundry facilities are located in the lower level of Archer, Graves, and Perdue halls. Card-operated machines and folding tables are available.

Pets

Pets and animals may not be kept in houses; however, arrangements will be made to accommodate dogs that assist students with disabilities, e.g., guide dogs for students who are blind and companion dogs for students who are hearing or mobility impaired. Students who need animals to assist them because of a disability must contact the Counseling & Disability Resource Center, which will provide documentation to housing. Students who keep pets or animals inside or outside any house will be fined for each offense and may be held responsible for the extermination or other costs associated with the pets or animals.

Solicitation and Selling

Neither students nor non-students may solicit or sell any products or services or post any advertisements in the houses. The house staff will immediately remove unauthorized advertisements that are posted.

Decorations

Although individuality and creativity are encouraged, students are not to decorate in a manner that permanently alters their rooms. Materials may not be used if they cause damage to the paint, walls, ceilings, or floors. To hang items on walls, please use map tacks, thumbtacks, or blue painter’s tape.

Flyers

All notices and signs posted by organizations in houses must show approval stamps from the Office of Student Life on the documents and must be approved by the House Dean of the respective house. Flyers should clearly state the name of the responsible organization and should be posted only on designated bulletin boards. No notices or signs may be placed on the interior or exterior walls, windows, or doors. Signs and notices that are posted improperly will be removed, and the responsible organization may be fined and charged the cost of any repairs. Please contact the Office of Housing and Residential Education for further clarification.

Storage

Storage is not available in the houses. Students who need to store items must make their own arrangements with a commercial storage company.

Guests and Visitation

Guest Policy

Guests are any people other than authorized College officials, who do not live in a specific house. Students will be held responsible for their own conduct, as well as that of their guests. Students who invite guests to campus and the houses are expected to inform them of all rules and regulations. All guests must present picture IDs upon request by the house staff.

Community Information Desk (CID)

The Community Information Desk is the checkpoint for guest entry to any house. The primary purpose of the CID is to monitor and facilitate guest visitation. The management of the CID is coordinated by the House Dean. All visitors must provide a student ID or other picture ID when requested by the house staff. If confiscated, the ID card will be given to the House Dean.

Overnight Guests

Students are prohibited from having overnight guests in their rooms. While the College is fully aware and sensitive to the fact that students participate in late-night study and discussion sessions from time to time, all students are encouraged to return to their own rooms and/or dwellings to sleep.

Visitation

Guest visitation in houses is a privilege, not a right, and therefore may be suspended by the Associate Vice President for Student Services & Dean of the College, the Associate Dean of the College for Residential Education & Director of Housing, or the House Dean. Residents must have their roommates’ consent before inviting female visitors to their rooms, and female visitors must not interfere with the academic pursuits of residents or their roommates.

Freshmen Visitation Policy

There is no visitation for individuals not affiliated with the College in the freshmen houses for the first semester until the weekend following Homecoming. In addition, visitation ends the last day of finals. In the second semester, visitation for those not affiliated with Morehouse begins at the discretion of the house dean and ends the last day of finals.

Freshmen hours for female visitation, beginning the Friday after Homecoming are:

- Sunday through Thursday: 6 – 11 p.m.

Upperclassmen – Visitation Policy

Visitation for the first and second semesters begins at the discretion of the House Dean and ends the last day of finals. The hours for visitation for those not affiliated with Morehouse are as follows:

Otis Moss Jr. Residential Suites

The Otis Moss Residential Suites is an upperclassman house composed of an East and West building capable of housing up to 360 students. The apartment-style living quarters allows students to accept greater responsibility for their daily activities within the guidelines of the College and the Office of Housing and Residential Education. Students have the option of staying on a meal plan or utilizing the kitchens to prepare meals.

Dining Services

Meal Plans

Meal plans may be required depending on the classification and house.

In traditional houses, students will select their meal plans during the housing application process:

- All residential freshmen are required to have the unlimited meal plan.
- Sophomore students may choose between the unlimited and 14-meal plans.
- Juniors may choose among unlimited, 14-, and 10-meal plans.
- Seniors may choose from any option available.

In the Otis Moss Suites, students may select any meal plan option or choose not to purchase a meal plan. Each student select his meal plans on the dining services web page and must have a credit on his student account for the amount of the selected meal plan.

The meal contract is offered for the academic year. Exceptions: Only two (2) meals are served per day on the following holidays: Thanksgiving, Dr. King’s birthday, Spring Break, and Good Friday.

Each student who resides on campus is issued an ID/meal card, which must be presented for entrance into the dining hall. The meal plan is also available for purchase by students who live off-campus.
ID cards are not transferable — the right to use them may not be given or sold to another person. All ID cards are the property of the College and must, therefore, be returned upon request. Lost cards should be reported to the ID Card Office – Access Control, which will charge students a fee for a replacement card. The meal plan for the semester ends with dinner on the last day of finals.

Cash Meals
Residential students are admitted to the dining hall when they present their meal cards. Guests and visitors accompanied by residential students must pay cash for their meals when they enter the dining hall. Because of space limitations, only those who are receiving meals are admitted to the dining hall during meal hours.

Off-Campus Meal Plans
Students living off-campus may purchase off-campus meal plans that fit their needs. Students should consult the schedule of fees to obtain information on the various off-campus meal plans. Meal plans are purchased through the student accounts in the Business and Finance Office.

Special Diets
Requests for special diets will be honored by the dining hall staff within their capabilities. Students cannot be released from their house contract, which includes room and board, because of their requests for special meals.

Services

The Student Counseling & Disability Services Center facilitates institutional goals by working closely with faculty, administrators, and staff to provide a supportive campus climate.

The Center offers a broad array of services designed to meet the demands of College students, faculty, and staff. Services include: individual and group counseling; crisis intervention; workshops; seminars; disability services; and referral services for students in need of psychiatric help and counseling.

The Center also provides professional development and is available to campus organizations, academic departments, administrators, and staff on topics including "Identifying Signs of Psychological Distress," "Recognizing Symptoms of Depression," and "Addressing Substance Abuse." Counseling programs also provide support for students in need of individual assistance, as well as staff who could benefit from psycho-education on health and wellness-related topics.

- Individual counseling is available to help students develop and expand coping strategies that will enable them to more effectively handle situations they may encounter during their College years. The Counseling Center offers students a safe place to explore, develop, and learn more about themselves and their relationships with others. All students are encouraged to use the Center’s confidential and free services.

- Crisis intervention is available with an on-call counselor after hours during the work week and during weekends to respond to urgent matters. If you need emergency assistance, call Campus Police, which will dispatch your information to the counselor on call, who will immediately return the call.

Confidentiality

Confidentiality obliges staff at the Student Counseling & Disability Services Center not to discuss information about a client with anyone. The purpose of confidentiality in psychological counseling, psychotherapy, and disability services is to enable students to discuss problems they are experiencing honestly and privately in a trusting environment.

Safeguarding information shared by students in the context of the counselor/therapist-patient relationship is an ethical and legal responsibility. The Student Counseling & Disability Services Center strictly protects the confidentiality of shared information during sessions.

Limits of Confidentiality

There are exceptions to the confidentiality of therapist-patient information set by the state of Georgia.

Examples include:

- Issues of child abuse if under the age of 18 years old.
- Imminence of danger to self or others.
- If you tell your therapist that you actually intend to cause imminent, life-threatening harm to yourself, the therapist is legally obligated to take whatever actions seem necessary to protect you from harm.
- If you tell your therapist that you actually intend to do imminent bodily harm to another person(s), by law, your therapist will inform the authorities of the intent and take additional action if necessary.
- If a court of law orders a counselor or therapist to release information, then that person is bound by law to comply with such an order.

Release of Information

With the exceptions noted above, information about students, including their use of counseling and disability services, cannot be released to anyone outside the Student Counseling & Disability Services Center without written permission. If a student asks the Center to release information, he will be asked to sign a form authorizing its release. Any student may revoke this permission at any time by giving the Center written notice.

Disability Services
Location: Sale Hall Annex, Suite 100
O: (470) 639-0231
F: (470) 639-0177

Disability Services functions to ensure that all students with disabilities have equal access to educational opportunities at Morehouse College. A wide range of services and accommodations is offered for students with disabilities. These services are based on the specific needs of each student as identified by the Coordinator for Disability Services.

Disability Services provides support for students with disabilities of all kinds, including: mobility, visual, or hearing impairments; speech impairments; chronic illnesses, such as AIDS, diabetes, and lupus; seizure disorders; head injuries; painful conditions like back injuries and carpal tunnel syndrome; psychological disabilities such as bipolar disorder and severe anxiety or depression; attention deficit disorder; and learning disabilities.

Qualified disabilities as defined by the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA), involve a physical or mental impairment that substantially limits one or more major life activities (walking, seeing, hearing, speaking, breathing, learning, or working). Qualifying students must meet the academic requirements for admissions to Morehouse College and have disabilities such as:

- Attention-Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder
- Autoimmune Disorders (lupus, HIV/AIDS)
- Blindness or Visual Impairments
- Blood Disorders (like sickle cell anemia)
- Cerebral Palsy
- Communication Disorders
- Hypertension

- Learning Disorders
- Multiple Sclerosis
- Orthopedic Impairments
- Psychiatric Disabilities
- Spinal Cord or Traumatic Brain Injuries

Obtaining Accommodations
- Self-identification of disability
- Submit required documentation (psychological assessment or physician's statement)
- Schedule appointment with Disability Services Coordinator
- Complete Disability Services Intake Packet
- Request accommodations

Academic Accommodations
The disability services coordinator determines which accommodations are appropriate given a student’s particular disability or disabilities. Following are some of the more commonly prescribed accommodations:

- Handouts in large print
- Course materials in electronic format
- Extended time on exams
- Alternate formats for testing (oral, multiple choice)
- Testing in a distraction-reduced environment
- Reader or scribe for exams
- Textbooks on tapes
- Program modifications
- Use of assistive devices
- Tape-recorded lectures
- Note-takers
- Preferential seating
- Permission to make audio-recordings of class lectures
- Extended time on examinations
- Frequent breaks for rest, medication, food, or exercise during exams
- Copies of examinations in large-print format
- Permission to use a basic four-function calculator during examinations
- Use of a laptop computer during examinations: For example, a student is not penalized for mechanical errors (spelling, punctuation, capitalization, handwriting, and proofing) on in-class writing assignments and examinations.
- Instructor’s use of alternative testing formats for the student’s exams: For example, oral rather than written, short-answer tests rather than multiple-choice (or vice versa), or essays rather than multiple-choice tests.

Program Modification

- Foreign language or math substitutions
- Part-time or reduced course load

Support Services

- Special housing arrangement
- Self-advocacy training
- Counseling/disability management
- Study skills, time management, and organizational strategies enhancement

The disability services coordinator may recommend a reduced course load (for a single semester or for a student’s entire academic career) when the student’s disability makes it necessary to work more slowly and spend more time on each course. The disability services coordinator can assist students in securing approval from the deans of their colleges for reduced course loads. The coordinator also works with the Financial Aid Office to protect the student’s award from being impacted by taking a reduced course load.

Occasionally, a student’s disability necessitates an adjustment in required courses. The disability services coordinator determines whether learning disabilities will prevent the student’s mastery of course material in mathematics or foreign languages. If so, the coordinator advises the student about the procedures to be followed in seeking adjustments. Both the disability services coordinator and the student must write to the dean, explaining the special requests.

Mandatory Medical Leave of Absence

The College Physician, the Director of Counseling Services, Medical Director, or the Academic Deans, may recommend or require that a student be withdrawn from the College or placed on a mandatory medical leave of absence when the student’s health or medical condition deteriorates to the point of becoming life threatening, impedes his academic progress, is disruptive to the normal life of the College community, or endangers the health and safety of the College community.

Medical Leave of Absence

A student whose health prevents him from making academic progress may request a leave of absence by consulting with his academic dean. If he elects to take a leave, he must complete the appropriate paperwork.

Resuming Studies after a Medical Leave of Absence

A student who is placed on a leave of absence must go through the Counseling or Health Center offices to be reinstated to the College. He must provide official documentation about the medical or health problems that resulted in a leave of absence. This information must be submitted to the Vice President of Enrollment Management and Student Services, the Director of the Health Center, and the Director of the Counseling Center by Nov. 1 for a student who wishes to resume his studies during the Spring Semester and March 1 for the Fall Semester. The College Physician or the Director of the Counseling Center has the authority to determine whether it is appropriate for a student to be permitted to resume his studies after a Medical Leave of Absence.

Auxiliary Services

The disability services coordinator determines which Auxiliary Services are appropriate given a student’s particular disability or disabilities.

Assistive Technology

Several types of technology are made available to students by disability services to help offset the effects of their disabilities. Computer-based technology is located in the Learning Resource Center.

Students with documented disabilities that affect their ability to read print may be eligible for textbooks and other class materials on CD. The disability services coordinator helps students order these recordings of textbooks on a CD format through Recordings for the Blind and Dyslexic.

Disability groups for students

The Coordinator of Disability Services informs students about the staff- and student-run disability groups, as well as local, state and national organizations. Students are encouraged to become informed and active in decisions regarding disability law and services.

Financial Advising

The Office of Financial Aid administers loans, grants, and scholarships for which students with disabilities may be eligible. The Director of Financial Aid can assist students in understanding the relationship between Morehouse College’s Financial Aid and other sources of assistance, such as those from the Department of Rehabilitation and the Social Security Administration. The Coordinator of Disability Services assists students in informing the Financial Aid Office about any special disability circumstances that may affect their eligibility for financial aid. These circumstances include course loads and disability-related extra expenses.
Housing Assistance
The Department of Housing at the College allots a certain number of spaces within the residence halls that can be used to accommodate the needs of students with disabilities. In order to use one of the allotted spaces, a student must provide disability services with documentation of a disability-related need for special housing.

Designated Coordinator Level
If an individual wants to file a formal, written grievance, he should promptly submit the grievance to the Coordinator of Disability Services.

The grievance must be submitted in writing on the Grievance Form. Complete this form in full to receive proper consideration by the director. (Upon request, the director or a representative will provide assistance in completing the form.)

A College official, appointed by the respective vice president, will investigate the grievance and make reasonable efforts to resolve it. A written response will be provided to the Complainant within 10 school days after receipt of the fully completed Grievance Form.

Final Review Level
If the Complainant is not satisfied, or if a reply has not been received within the specified time, the student may then appeal, in writing, within 10 school days, to the Vice President for Academic Affairs (if it is an academic matter) or to the Vice President for Student Services (if it is a student services matter). A written response will be given to the individual within 10 school days.

If the individual is still not satisfied, he may appeal in writing within 10 school days, from receipt of the final response to the College President.

Grievance Records
Grievance records will be maintained for at least one year by the Coordinator of Disability Services.

Morehouse College is committed to developing leaders who will be positive role models and make significant contributions to society. The Bonner Office of Community Service (BOCS) seeks to utilize its resources to develop and encourage volunteerism. BOCS wishes to perpetuate a culture of service on the Morehouse campus that will strengthen our resolve to be accountable as leaders, with the desire to be stewards of positive social change.

Students and others in the Morehouse College family know that the path they walk in service extends beyond the classrooms and/or offices of the Atlanta University Center. BOCS supports and facilitates the involvement of Morehouse students, faculty, staff, and administration in community service work through a variety of programs and opportunities, both on and off campus. These require commitments ranging from just a few hours each semester to several hours each week.

Through the efforts of the Bonner Office, Morehouse College better fulfills her mission of “developing men with disciplined minds who will lead lives of leadership and service.”

Although a good number of students engage in community service on a volunteer basis, BOCS offers a limited number of scholarships and/or stipends for eligible students.

• The organization must register and provide new updates concerning executive officers, advisors, and any other changes that have been made by the second Friday in April.

• All organizations are required to have a logo that is deemed accepted by the Department of Student Life.

• An organization that wishes to end its charter must submit a written statement. The executive officers of that organization will not be able to re-charter another organization for two semesters.

Probation

• The probation limit for an organization is subject to change based upon the offense in question.

• Initial probation does not restrict organizations from hosting meetings. It can, however, result in the organization losing its charter for two years.

• Organizations on probation are not able to host events.

• If an organization is placed on initial probation, it will hold its position for two semesters before the organization’s charter is revoked.

• A two-year suspension can and will result from repeated offenses including failure to meet the specified requirements listed above.

An organization that remains inactive for two years will have its charter revoked. The organization must reinstate its charter by filing a request for renewal. A student organization may have its registration suspended or its charter revoked if it is found guilty of any or all of the following:

1. Submitting falsified information;
2. Violating policies and regulations of Morehouse College; and
3. Failing to discharge its financial obligations to the College.

All officers of any chartered student organization must have at least a 2.7 GPA for active participation. Some organizations may require higher standards. Upon approval, an organization will be listed in one of the following categories:

Academic/Pre-Professional

Academic/Pre-professional organizations foster the appreciation of a particular academic field or discipline among the student body or serve as a governing body within a particular college division. Academic/Pre-Professional organizations provide an opportunity for individuals to discuss and share information related to a specific academic field, topic or interest. Additionally, these organizations aid in developing professional standards among members and in a particular field or related career path.

Athletic

Athletic organizations encourage participation in sports activities. They also aid in the development of skills, knowledge, and support of a particular sport or leisure activity.

Cultural

Cultural organizations encourage appreciation for cultural diversity among their members and the campus community.

Religious/Spiritual

Religious/Spiritual organizations assist in the spiritual development, instruction and fellowship of students. These organizations foster interdenominational, denominational or specific spiritual and/or religious tenets.

Residential Hall Association/Hall Council

Residential Life Government organizations serve as a liaison between the Morehouse College community and the members of the various residence halls, with the overall goal of enhancing student life and residential living.

Service

Service organizations focus on outreach efforts for the campus as well as community projects. Service organizations are an excellent way to give back to the community and gain experience in your field. These organizations provide philanthropic and/or altruistic service to the campus and/or community.

Social/Political Action

Social/Political Action organizations address social, political and governmental concerns and promote interest in these areas at the campus, local, state and national levels.

Special Interest

Special Interest organizations encourage students to discuss and share information regarding a particular area of interest and/or awareness of a topic not necessarily related to other specified categories.

State/International Club

State/International organizations help students maintain contact with their home state or international country by strengthening friendships among students from the same state or country. These groups hold social activities, establish travel connections among students, and perform social service projects for the College and the community.
An updated list of student organizations is available each year from the Department of Student Life.

Academic Organizations

Debate
The English Department sponsors the Forensics program in association with the College Speech program. The Forensics program provides curricular and extracurricular learning and experience in forensics, including tournament competition in debate, public speaking and oral interpretation of literature.

Band
The Music Department sponsors the concert, jazz, and marching bands. For more information, contact the Music Department.

Glee Club
The Glee Club is the official singing organization of Morehouse College and is on duty to serve the President at all times throughout the year. Along with local concerts, there is an annual spring tour, which averages 10 to 15 cities in two to three weeks. The members do not receive academic credit. Auditions are held at the beginning of each semester, and all majors may participate.

Fraternal & Social Fellowship Organizations

Fraternities and social fellowship organizations are extracurricular organizations chartered by the College. The College encourages fraternities to contribute to the fulfillment of its mission by promoting academic excellence, exercising collegial spirit, celebrating diversity, recognizing the interdependence of campus organizations, and respecting the dignity of the entire College community. The College does not recognize fraternities and social fellowship organizations as secret societies because secrecy is incompatible with the College’s mission to maintain an open exchange of ideas and information.

To be classified as a fraternity or social fellowship organization and operate on campus, organizations must be nationally affiliated and adhere to various rules and regulations established by the College. Compliance with College policies, procedures and regulations always supersedes any oaths of secrecy fraternity members may take. The College recognizes the following fraternals and social fellowship organizations:

- Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity Inc.
- Omega Psi Phi Fraternity Inc.
- Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity Inc.
- Iota Phi Theta Fraternity Inc.
- Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia Music Fraternity Inc.
- Groove Phi Groove Social Fellowship Inc.

Coordination of Greek Life on Campus
The Department of Student Life/Greek Life Committee governs Greek-letter fraternities and social fellowship organizations. The Department is charged with such activities as policy making, policy enforcement, training, conduct monitoring and coordinating College activities and policies with the local, state, regional and national representatives of each fraternity and social fellowship organization. The Greek Life Committee conducts a mandatory in-service training seminar at the beginning of each school year for Chapter Advisors, Chapter Officers, and other organizational representatives.

The Department of Student Life also will conduct a RUSH for students interested in membership intake at the beginning of each semester.

*See Hazing Policy on page 48–51

Rush
Students interested in membership intake must attend the Rush. Students will be provided with general information about each organization (e.g., academic requirements, monetary requirements, community service requirements, etc.). Students will be permitted to meet with the organization(s) of their choice.

Rush will take place over three days. Students interested in an organization are encouraged to attend all sessions. Each organization is responsible for selecting students for its membership intake program. No more than 25 students may be selected for any membership intake program per semester.

Advisors to Greek Letter and Social Fellowship Organizations
All Greek Letter and social fellowship organizations must have a minimum of two advisors who work closely with the organization and serve as its liaison with the Department of Student Life.

The Campus Advisor must be a member of the faculty or professional staff whose primary duty is to counsel the organization. The Off-Campus Advisor must be a graduate of an undergraduate institution and have completed an undergraduate study for at least four years prior to becoming an Advisor. The Advisor should be a member in good financial standing of the Greek-letter organization. Advisors are subject to approval by the Department of Student Life’s/Greek Life Committee.

In brief, the duties of a Chapter Advisor include:

1. Ensuring that all activities are in keeping with College regulations
2. Ensuring that all activities are in keeping with the objectives of the national organization
3. Meeting with the chapter at all meetings when possible or having a representative present.
4. Serving as an Advisor and consultant on all fraternity matters.
5. Serving as a liaison between the chapter and the College, local graduate chapter, and all levels of the organization.
6. Ensuring that students in the chapter are familiar with Georgia law on hazing.
7. Supervising record-keeping, financial transactions, and intake activities in accordance with College and fraternity policies.

Advisors or their designee(s) must attend all major functions of the organization (e.g., parties, fundraisers, etc.). If an Advisor cannot attend an event, he must notify the Department of Student Life at least four business days in advance of the activity. The Advisor must designate another member of the faculty or staff to attend. An Advisor must notify the Department of Student Life and Planning immediately, in writing, if he cannot continue to advise an organization.

Fraternal organizations play an important role on the college campus. Each chapter is expected to be responsible, productive, and a cooperative member of the College community.

Much care should be given in choosing an Advisor. The constant guidance and assistance that must be provided to fraternal organizations require maturity and wisdom usually found in more experienced members, especially in the operations of the particular chapters.

Advisors are expected to help members of the undergraduate chapter develop into the kind of men of whom their organization can be proud and to whom the organization can look for assistance in carrying out its programs on the national, regional, state, and local levels.

Membership Selection
Because the College recognizes fraternal and social fellowship groups as private organizations, these groups may select student members according to their criteria. These criteria must not discriminate against students in an arbitrary and capricious manner and must be functionally related to the explicit goals of the organization and the mission of the College. Prospective members of a fraternal organization have the right to learn about the organization, its rules, responsibilities, and benefits of membership in an environment that poses no risk or threat to them.

Fraternal and social fellowship organizations must comply with the College’s Certification Procedures, which require that the candidates selected for the intake meet the following criteria. Organizations may induct into their membership any student in good standing who has a minimum 3.0 cumulative grade-point average and has earned at least 30 hours of college credit at Morehouse. Transfer students must have a minimum 3.0 grade-point average and have earned at least 15 hours of college credit at Morehouse. No student may be selected for membership unless he has achieved sophomore status. The Department of Student Advocacy and Accountability (Student Conduct) must verify that candidates selected for membership do not have any disciplinary sanctions. Students must be in good financial status with the College. Morehouse College does not honor any legacy clause; each student will have an equal opportunity based on the approved selections criteria.

College Certification Procedures
The Department of Student Life will verify with the Office of the Registrar that each student has the minimum 3.0 grade-point average and the earned hours required for membership intake. In addition, the Department of Student Life will confirm with the Department of Student Advocacy and Accountability (Student Conduct) that those applying for membership intake do not have any disciplinary sanctions. Moreover, the Department of Student Life will make sure that the student is financially cleared through the Office of Financial Aid. The Department of Student Life will notify the respective organizations concerning the eligibility or ineligibility of students invited for membership intake. The membership intake program MAY NOT begin until the Department of Student Life sends official approval to the Organization. Violation(s) of this process may be grounds for disciplinary action.

Organizations requiring copies of academic transcripts should request them directly from the Office of the Registrar and are responsible for ensuring that students complete the required transcript request forms and pay any associated fees.

Membership Intake
Membership intake is the process by which students become members of a fraternal organization. Chapters wishing to participate in membership intake must meet with the Assistant Director of Student Life in order to gain permission. The intake chairperson and chapter president must be present at this meeting. Membership Intake is usually conducted by regional teams composed of members of the fraternity selected by the national or regional representatives. It does not involve any pledging activities. Most Greek letter fraternities no longer permit pledging.
Student Government Association (SGA)

The Morehouse College SGA is the official medium for addressing student concerns and the chief avenue for promoting campus livelihood and involvement. It offers students an opportunity to develop sound judgment, maturity and leadership skills by taking an active role in issues that govern student life at Morehouse College.

The SGA is composed of the Executive Board, the Student Senate, and the Honor and Conduct Review Board. It also incorporates Class Council and Student Trustee concepts of student governance. Elections for SGA office take place during the Fall Semester for new students and during the Spring Semester for upperclassmen. Student candidates desiring to campaign for office must be in good standing and have a minimum 2.7 cumulative GPA.

Campus Alliance for Student Activities (CASA)

Morehouse College CASA is responsible for the development of activities and programs for the student body. Programs and activities are developed to enrich the social, physical, intellectual, cultural, educational, and spiritual lives of students. In addition, CASA encourages students to be active members of the campus community through developing character, transferable skills, camaraderie, and scholarship among the student body at Morehouse College, as well as the Atlanta University Center. Student candidates desiring to serve on CASA must be in good standing, complete the application and interview process, and have a minimum 2.7 cumulative GPA.

GUIDELINES FOR STUDENT TRAVEL

1. Only classes conducted by academic departments, athletic teams, or representatives of recognized student organizations may represent the College on field trips, or at games, tournaments, competitions, or other student-related events held at off-campus locations.

2. Each travel group must be accompanied by one or more full-time members of the faculty or staff. Parents or guardians may also be invited to serve as chaperones for large groups.

3. Requests for student travel must be reviewed and approved by the appropriate division head at least one week prior to the scheduled departure. The business office generally needs 10 business days to process such requests. Allowing 10 business days affords the business office personnel (Budget Analyst, Travel Accountant and Accounts Payable) enough time to review the request for completeness and accuracy. It also gives them time to communicate and receive any missing information or documentation that may prevent officials from moving forward with the approval process.

4. If a cash advance is desired, the faculty/staff advisor or sponsor must submit an Authorization for Travel to the Office of Business Affairs. Cash advances are only distributed to Morehouse Faculty and Staff and should be accompanied with detailed support documentation. Please also note that the maximum amount that can be requested as Miscellaneous is $50.

5. A Notice of Student Travel form should be completed by the faculty/staff advisor or sponsor, and submitted to the Director of Student Life and Planning at least 24 hours prior to the scheduled date of departure. Information to be provided includes:
   a. Name of group
   b. Faculty/staff advisor or sponsor
   c. Title of activity
   d. Purpose of activity

PARKING

Introduction

The Morehouse College parking policies govern on-campus parking and other Morehouse-owned properties, so that our staff, faculty, students, and guests may have maximum benefit from parking facilities. Adhering to these policies promotes driver and pedestrian safety, as well as access to campus facilities by emergency vehicles at all times.

The Morehouse College Parking Office, under the supervision of the Vice President for Business Affairs, is responsible for administering and enforcing College parking rules and regulations. Students and others, who violate these regulations risk being ticketed, booted, having their College driving privileges revoked or vehicles impounded. For more information about registration and parking, contact the Parking Management office.

A motor vehicle parked, operated, or driven on campus is the sole responsibility of its owner or operator. The College is not liable, nor does it maintain insurance for, damages caused to or by any vehicle, its operator, occupants, or any others, unless the damage is the result of a College employee acting in the course of, and within the scope of, his or her employment with the College.
During emergencies and special situations, it may become necessary to suspend or otherwise modify the parking regulations. The College reserves the right to change parking regulations at any time. Temporary regulations and restrictions will be enforced accordingly.

General Policy

The Morehouse Parking Policy requires all faculty, staff, and students to obtain the proper parking permits to park on campus lots or other Morehouse property, including during nights, weekends, holidays, and break periods. All others are required to park in the parking deck until a proper permit has been obtained. The Campus Parking Office will register vehicles and issue permits. Only one permit will be issued to an employee, student, or service contractor (vendor) per year. Parking permits and access control materials are not transferable without prior written authorization from the Parking Office.

College policy prohibits freshmen from having vehicles on campus. Campus parking permits will not be issued to any student who is classified as a freshman, regardless of his age or the number of semesters he has been registered at the College. It is a violation of school policy for upperclassmen to obtain parking permits for freshman students.

A. Permits/Access Control Materials

- Permits will be color-coded to reflect each vehicle owner’s classification and authorized parking location(s).
- Permits for faculty and staff members are valid as long as those workers are employed by the College.
- Permits for contractors (vendors) are permits are typically valid for one year (July 1—June 30).
- Student permits can be purchased monthly, for the semester or for the entire academic school year.
- Morehouse students attending summer school and students or individuals involved in a summer program are required to purchase summer parking permits. (see www.morehouse.edu/student_life/campusinfo/parking.html).
- Daily parkers are issued temporary permits only and are required to park in the parking deck.
- Parkers on payroll deduction must surrender access materials and permits before deductions will stop.
- Each applicant will need the following to complete vehicle registration:
  - Employment identification or verification, or current student identification.
  - Driver's license and proof of insurance.

Anti-Passback System

The access-control system uses a “passback” control feature that requires access-control material to be used at an entrance reader before it can be used at an exit reader and vice versa. If a passback situation has been determined, the individual is expected to pay the lost ticket rate or the appropriate fine.

Repeated violation of the passback control system could result in revocation of parking privileges for the permit owner. Allowing someone to use your access card or permit to enter or exit will prevent you from gaining access into or out of the parking deck.

Reserved Parking

Anyone parking in a reserved parking space (including spaces marked “Reserved for Deans” and/or “Department Chairs”) must have a reserved parking permit. A reserved permit is required even if permission from a reserved permit holder to park in his/her reserved space has been granted. Individuals with reserved parking permits must park in their designated spaces only.

Motorcycle Parking

Motorcycles must be registered with a motorcycle permit and must be parked in the area(s) designated for motorcycle parking only. Individuals purchasing a vehicle parking permit may not be required to purchase a separate motorcycle permit. There is no motorcycle parking in the deck.

Lost, Stolen, or Damaged Permits and/or Access Materials

Lost or stolen permits and/or access materials must immediately be reported to the Parking Office. A police report must be filed with Campus Police. The replacement fee for lost, stolen or damaged permits, and/or access materials is $20. Permits and access cards will be replaced at no cost only if the damage is a result of normal wear and tear.

B. Payment Methods

Permits and/or access card fees may be paid for in the following manners.

- Students: cash, TigerPay, major credit card, debit card, or check.
- Faculty/Staff: payroll deduction, major credit card, debit card, cash, or check.
- Parking fines can only be paid using cash, major credit card, or debit cards with MASTERCARD or VISA logos. Fines or boot fees paid after hours are payable only in cash, with receipt for payment provided.

Issuing a bad check for payment is against the law and is subject to prosecution.
Refunds
Refunds can be obtained only on prepaid parking. Refunds will be prorated based on the remaining weeks or months in the semester. The discontinuation of payroll deduction is allowed if all parking access material is returned. Individuals terminating employment without returning parking access material(s) will receive a deduction from their final check equivalent to three months of parking fees.

The Morehouse College Campus Police Department and Campus Parking Office will have the responsibility to regulate and enforce all parking. All fines are the responsibility of the vehicle registrant and/or permit registrant.

Vehicles found in violation are subject to any or all of the following sanctions:

1. Warning stickers affixed to the vehicle window.
2. Parking boot. Boot removal without authorization will result in prosecution or sanctions equaling the cost to repair or replace a boot. (Fines may be paid with cash, major credit cards, or debit cards with MASTERCARD or VISA logos.)
3. Vehicles will be towed if the vehicle blocks a driveway, loading dock, handicap-access area or parking space, or if it creates a hazard.
4. Fraudulent reproduction of a permit is a violation of the law and prohibited by College policy. Violators are subject to loss of parking privileges, fines and/or prosecution.
5. Boots not paid for by 5:30 p.m. will be removed the following business day unless the vehicle owner chooses to pay a $25 trip charge, in addition to the violation fee.
6. An additional $11 will be added to the violation fee for each 24-hour period the vehicle remains booted.

Appeal Process
In cases where a vehicle is ticketed, booted, or towed, the owner may elect to appeal the action after the fee is paid. An appeal form must be completed and submitted to the Parking Office within seven days from the date of the action (appeal forms are available in the Parking Office in the deck). All appeals will be handled by the Parking Manager and/or his designee at 10 a.m. on the Thursday following submission of the appeal form. No appeals will be heard on Thursdays falling on Thanksgiving Day or authorized holidays and school closings.

None of the following are considered acceptable grounds for appeal:

1. Lack of knowledge of parking policies.
2. Inability to locate an appropriate space at the desired location.
3. Instruction to park by a Morehouse employee or any other individual other than a parking employee.
4. Not seeing posted signs governing the area or violation.
5. Vehicle was lent to another individual.

All appeal decisions are final.

After-Hours and Weekend Parking
During normal business hours (8 a.m.–5:30 p.m.) all permitted parkers are expected to park in their designated parking area to help ensure adequate parking in all areas. Off-campus students are allowed to park only in the deck during normal business hours. After-hours and weekend parking are allowed in areas where permit holders may not be assigned, with the exception of Kilgore lot, G lot (behind Perdue Hall) and all reserved spaces.
Storage of Vehicles on Campus
Storing vehicles on campus is not permitted. All vehicles with permits must be operable and moved with notification. Malfunctioning or inoperable vehicles must be moved within seven days to an off-campus location of owner’s choice and responsibility. Vehicles not moved within seven days after notification and/or warning will be towed off-campus. The College is not responsible for loss, damage, recovery cost or reclamation of said vehicle. Information concerning the location of towed vehicles can be obtained from Campus Police.

Overnight Parking
Overnight parking is permitted for students and employees traveling on College-related business or activities. Individuals requesting overnight parking accommodations must inform the parking management office in advance and provide specific dates of travel.

Special-Event Parking
During special events, parking rates and availability may change. Most special event parking will be restricted to the parking deck. The rate for special event parking will be determined on a per-event basis, depending on the nature of the event. Typically, a $2 per-car flat rate will apply for an event that is primarily a Morehouse College student event. The flat per-car rate for an event geared toward the general public is $5.

Most Frequently Asked Questions

1. If a student has an out-of-town guest, may he or she stay with the student in the Residence House?
   No. Students are not allowed to have overnight guests.

2. How can I become a Resident Assistant?
   Generally, students must have lived on-campus at least two semesters before they can serve as Resident Assistants. The process includes completing an application during the Fall Semester and attending a series of training classes, including a brief internship with a current Resident Assistant, during the Spring Semester. A student may begin the process during his first semester at Morehouse.

3. When and where can a student get an official excused absence to present to his professors?
   Official excuses may be obtained from the Office of Student Services during normal business hours. Students are required to submit written documentation to substantiate the reasons they missed classes.

4. If a student cannot go home during the Winter Break, can he remain on campus in the residence house?
   Residence halls are closed during the Winter Break and are not available for student occupancy.

5. Are there bathroom facilities in each residence house for female guests during visitations?
   Not all residence house are equipped with designated bathroom facilities for female guests. Residents of residence halls without such facilities are responsible for establishing acceptable procedures and accommodations for their female guests.

6. If a student suspects and/or alleges that his roommate is stealing his personal items from their room, what procedure is available to have the allegations addressed?
   Students should report this and all other problems to the Residential Deans, who will conduct the initial investigation and make appropriate referrals.

7. If a student has a good voice, can he automatically be a member of the Glee Club?
   No. Tryouts for the Glee Club are held at the beginning of each semester.

8. Where can older or otherwise non-traditional students go for support?
   Older or non-traditional students may visit the Office of Student Life and Planning or Off-Campus Programs to receive support. A student organization called Seasoned Mystique also serves the needs of these students.

9. Can a student satisfy the language requirement through a Study-Abroad Program? Where can a student sign up for Study-Abroad?
   Yes. Andrew Young Center for Global Leadership, 408 Walter E. Massey Bldg. (470) 639-0323.

10. What GPA does a student need to become a member of Phi Beta Kappa?
    To be eligible for membership in Phi Beta Kappa, each student must have a cumulative GPA of 3.75 by junior year and 3.50 by senior year, with no grade lower than a "C." However, since no more than 10 percent of the graduating class may be members, the standards may vary from year to year.

11. Why does the College require students to remove their hats in buildings?
    Removing one's hat indoors is an act of both courtesy and deference. Historically, hats were an essential part of men's attire. They served, among other things, as a place to conceal weapons. Within this context, men removed their hats when entering a building to demonstrate that they entered into friendship, peace, and harmony. This custom developed into a contemporary behavior that continues to be considered good manners.

    Men remove their hats when they want to show deference, high regard, and respect for women, elders, or people of superior status, such as judges, generals, presidents, and professors. Men also remove their hats to show deference when national anthems or sacred hymns are played or sung.

    As an institution committed to developing leaders who have internalized good manners and rules of social behavior, Morehouse expects and requires students to remove their hats when entering buildings and classrooms, and to observe other rules of good social behavior.

    Morehouse is a diverse community with a student population representing a variety of religions and religious practices. While the College recognizes and appreciates this diversity, it requires that all students, regardless of their religious customs, adhere to established College practices.
12. Where can a student register for GRE, GMAT, LSAT, and MCAT courses?
